New bills for holistic revamp of criminal laws, sedition out

End of the road for colonial era laws as govt tables 3 bills in LS to replace IPC, CrPC and Evidence Act; to be vetted by House panel

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

COLONIAL era criminal laws, including that on sedition, headed straight for the shredder on Friday as the Centre announced their complete overhaul through three bills tabled in the Lok Sabha. They will be referred to a parliamentary committee for vetting.

Introducing the bills that replace the Indian Penal Code, the Code of Criminal Procedure and the Indian Evidence Act, Union home minister Amit Shah said Section 124A (sedition) will be completely repealed but Section 150 that punishes "acts endangering sovereignty, unity and integrity of India" will stay.

Shah said the objective of the existing bills was to punish people rather than providing justice. Their replacements — The Bharitya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023, the Bharatiya Nagrik Suraksha Sanhita 2023 and the Bharatiya Sakshya Bill, 2023 — will completely transform India's criminal justice system, he added.

Some of their salient features are maximum punishment for crimes like mob lynching and rape of minors. Besides, marrying a woman by concealing identity or having sexual relationship under false promise of marriage, promotion or employment will attract up to 10-year imprisonment.

In cases of sexual violence, the statement of the victim and video recording will be compulsory and police will have to provide status update on a case within 90 days.

Every district will have a police official who will give a certificate to the family of those arrested that they are responsible for the person. Information will have to be provided both online, and personally, the proposed law mandates.

For the first time, community service as punishment for petty offences is sought to be introduced.

Some new offences have also been included, such as armed rebellion, subversive and separatist activities or endangering the sovereignty or unity of India, Shah told the House. The aim is to raise the conviction rate to 90%, he added.

The new bill allows trials of absconders and fugitives in absentia. Also, a forensic team's visit to a crime scene has been made mandatory if the crime would attract at least seven years of imprisonment.

NEW FORMULATIONS

Whole procedure right from filing an FIR to case diary, chargesheet and judgment to be digitised

Visit by forensic team to crime scene will be mandatory if the crime entails punishment of seven years or more

3 mobile forensic science labs to be present in every district

BY 2027
ALL COURTS TO BE COMPUTERISED

○ For the first time, filing e-FIRs will be possible. Zero FIR can be registered in any police station. The complaint will be sent to the police station concerned in 15 days

○ In case of sexual violence, statement of the victim and video recording compulsory. Police will have to provide status update on a case within 90 days

○ No government can withdraw a case entailing punishment of 7-yr jail or more without hearing the victim

○ Community service to be introduced as punishment. For cases entailing less than three years of jail, summary trial will be enough

○ Chargesheet deadline 90 days. Further 90 day extension with court permission. Probe must be wrapped up in 180 days. After trial, judgment in 30 days

○ For filing complaints against civil servants, authorities will have to give or deny permission within 120 days. If no response, it will be deemed to be a 'yes'

○ Sexual exploitation of women on the pretext of marriage, job, promotions or by hiding identity will be a crime

○ For gang-rape, punishment of 20 years imprisonment or life in jail. Provision for death sentence for raping minors. For mob lynching, punishment from seven years in jail to death sentence

○ Death sentence can only be converted to life; and lifer can be pardoned only within seven years of punishment

○ Terrorism defined for the first time. Trial to be allowed even if the criminal is absconding - like fugitive Dawood Ibrahim

CM Siddaramaiah arrives to unveil a statue of social reformer Basaveshwara in Athani on Friday

Contractors' bills will be cleared after probe: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

HITTING back at BJP, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday said that it would be unfair on the part of his government to clear the bills of contractors when a committee headed by retired judge Justice B Veerappa is conducting an inquiry into work on projects implemented by the previous BJP government.

Without the completion of investigation, it is not fair to release funds towards clearance of bills. Money was released for many incomplete works by the BJP government, he said. Siddaramaiah said contractors need not worry about the payment for works completed by them. "We are not for any commission money, but against those who took commission. There is no question of sparing anyone," he said.

In a series of tweets, Siddaramaiah stated that the government will not stop the inquiry. "Our government is after those who are involved in corruption," he added.

Siddaramaiah said during the campaign for May 10 Assembly elections, the Congress party had promised to unearth all scams that took place during the BJP rule. "Voters of Karnataka trusted us and voted us to power. It's time to keep our promise. Hence, we have ordered an inquiry into the 40% commission allegation," he said.

The CM said that during the BJP rule, bills of contractors were cleared for incomplete development works. The committee will probe all scams. Contractors who have completed the works awarded to them need not worry. The government will not spare those who have not completed the works given to them but have received payments for the same, he added.

Referring to former deputy chief minister R Ashoka's allegation that the Congress government is seeking 15% commission, Siddaramaiah termed it far from truth. He, however, said that he is happy that Ashoka has reduced the commission percentage from 40 to 15. This shows that Ashoka admits that the Congress governance is better than his party's rule.

He added that they will submit evidential documents in 12 booklets to the single-man panel. P4

9 injured as fire breaks out at BBMP office

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

A suspected chemical reaction leading to a blast caused a major fire at Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike's (BBMP) quality control cell at the civic agency's head office at NR Square on Friday evening. Nine BBMP employees sustained burns. Of them, the condition of four is said to be serious.

Eyewitnesses said the fire, which started with a blast, possibly due a reaction from the benzene stored in the quality control cell, was noticed at 5.15 pm. All the nine injured were in the quality control cell when the blast took place.

According to Additional Commissioner (West) N Sateesh Kumar, benzene used in road construction quality checks may have caused a blast due to a reaction and all the injured were rushed to St Marthas Hospital. Benzene is used to check bitumen quality and is known to be highly inflammable.

Sources in the BBMP told The New Indian Express that the blast could have occurred when benzene was poured to separate bitumen from other aggregates. Now, questions are being raised about the fire safety measures at the cell.

Centre asks Indians to leave Niger at earliest

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

THE Centre on Friday issued an advisory to Indians in Niger asking them to leave the violence-hit country as soon as possible. There are about 250 Indians in the West African country where a military coup on July 26 overthrew the democratically elected government of President Mohamed Bazoum, leading to widespread protests and violence.

"Indian nationals whose presence is not essential are advised to leave the country as soon as possible," Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said. "They may bear in mind that the airspace is currently closed. When departing through a land border, utmost precautions may be taken to ensure safety and security," he added.

Bagchi appealed to all Indians stuck in Niger to ensure they are registered with the Indian Embassy in Niamey, which is providing all possible assistance for those trying to leave the country.

Deloitte flags concerns, may quit as Adani Ports auditor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

DELOITTE & Haskins LLP is likely to resign as the auditor of Adani Ports and SEZ (APSEZ) over concerns on the quality of accounts of the company, sources said. Deloitte, which has been auditing the books of APSEZ since FY18, has raised serious concerns over the allegations made by US-based Hindenburg in its report.

When contacted, the Adani Group ruled out such a possibility. A company spokesperson said there is a process to be followed for resignation, adding that they are not aware of any such process being initiated. Deloitte declined to comment.

In the recently announced first quarter results, Deloitte highlighted some transactions flagged by Hindenburg as related party transactions. It said the company did not consider it necessary to have an independent external examination of these allegations. But, in the absence of an independent evaluation it is not able to make a conclusive statement on such transactions.

BITCOIN SCAM: FIR FILED AGAINST CCB OFFICERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN a major twist to the investigation of the multi-crore Bitcoin scam, a fresh FIR has been registered against CCB officers who investigated the case earlier.

The FIR was registered following a complaint by the Special Investigation Team (SIT), which is now probing the case, after forensic tests revealed that the seized digital devices have been tampered with.

The FIR was registered against unnamed police officers at Cottonpet police station on August 9 based on a complaint by DySP K Ravishankar, the investigation officer of the case.

According to his complaint, new files were created in five digital devices -- two pen drives, two Apple MacBooks and a hard disc - belonging to the accused, after they were seized and kept in police custody.

In his complaint, the DySP stated that the police had seized the digital devices from the accused in connection with the case registered at Kempegowda Nagar police station in 2020.

The case was being handled by Bengaluru CCB sleuths. The devices were seized after the government transferred the case to SIT. The devices were sent for forensic tests which revealed creation of new files in some of them.

Apex court moots panel to check hate speech

SHRUTI KAKKAR & HARPREET BAJWA
@New Delhi / Chandigarh

STRESSING that calls to boycott a particular community are not acceptable, the Supreme Court on Friday mooted the idea of setting up district-wise committees to look into hate speech. The SC asked the Centre to consider its suggestion to put in place an inbuilt mechanism to check hate speech and come back with the government's views by August 18.

A bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and S V N Bhati suggested that the DGPs of states can be asked to form such panels, comprising 3-4 police officers. Hate speech complaints can be referred to these committees, which will check the veracity and then issue directions to the SHOs concerned, the bench added.

The SC was hearing a plea over alleged hate speeches targeting a particular community in Haryana, Delhi, Uttarakhand and Uttar Pradesh. The court directed these states to file status report by next Friday.

Meanwhile, the Haryana government on Friday told the Punjab & Haryana High Court that the demolition drive in violence-hit Nuh was not 'ethnic cleansing' as suggested by the HC. It said the authorities followed due process of law.

On Monday, the HC had halted the demolition drive in Nuh, questioning if it was to drive out a particular community from the district.

On Friday, when the matter came up before it, the division bench of Justices Arun Palli and Jagmohan Bansal said it should be heard by another bench led by the chief justice and referred the matter to it.

Talking to reporters, Haryana's additional advocate general Deepak Sabharwal said the demolition drive can now resume as there is no stay.

SDPI man elected GP prez with BJP support

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mangaluru

IN a major embarrassment to the saffron party, T Ismail, an SDPI-backed candidate was elected president of Talapady gram panchayat at Ullal on the outskirts of Mangaluru on Thursday with the help of two BJP-backed members. BJP has suspended the two members for anti-party activities.

In the 24-member panchayat, 13 are backed by BJP, 10 by SDPI and one by Congress. The lone Congress-backed member and another SDPI-backed candidate were absent during polling.

Netizens and Congress leaders criticized BJP after the two members backed by it supported the SDPI-backed candidate.

However, Dakshina Kannada district BJP president Sudarshan Moodbidri denied supporting SDPI. Of the 13 BJP-backed members, Fayaz and Mohammad were aspirants for the president's post. But the BJP selected Satyaraj as its candidate. The duo, who were upset by the BJP decision, voted for Ismail. Both SDPI and BJP bagged 11 votes each. The SDPI-backed candidate won by a toss, he said.

Meanwhile, BJP MP Tejasvi Surya tweeted that it was fake news. "Elections to panchayats don't take place on party lines. BJP has not supported SDPI or any other party in these elections," he tweeted.

SDPI clarified that it is not supporting BJP. "Since BJP has a clear majority, we sought the support of the lone Congress member, but he refused. The two members suspended by BJP voted for the SDPI-backed candidate," a SDPI leader said.

Suburban Rail project deadline pushed by 2 more years to 2028

It was scheduled to be completed by 2026; minister inspects works on Mallige line

Civil works being executed on Corridor-2 (Mallige Line) from Bennigenahalli to Chikkabanavara of Suburban Rail Project in Bengaluru on Friday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER inspection of progress made by the only stretch of the Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP) where work has commenced, Infrastructure Development Minister M B Patil on Friday announced a revision of the deadline of the entire project to 2028, a two-year extension over the existing deadline. The 148.17- km BSRP costs Rs 15,767 crore and has four corridors in its network.

Speaking after inspecting the ongoing works of Corridor-2 (Mallige Line) from Bennigenahalli to Chikkabanavara at three spots – Lingarajapuram, Shampura Gate and Yeshwantpur yard -- Patil said, "We will do our best to complete it by the original deadline of 2026. But there could be delays due to unforeseen circumstances and so I am giving it a gap of two years."

Larsen & Toubro is presently executing the civil works on this line. "As of now, 10% to 15% of the work has been completed. It will be completed in 26 months from now," the minister said.

The lines will be opened one after the other as soon as they are completed. The entire project could take up to a maximum of 2028," Patil said.

Corridor-2 is the only corridor of BSRP for which work has commenced. The technical evaluation of tenders is on for the other corridor, Heelalige to Rajanakunte, running to 46.8 km (Corridor-4).

No work has begun on the other two corridors: KSR railway station to Devanahalli via Yelahanka (Corridor-1) and Kengeri to Whitefield (Corridor-3).

Fielding queries from newspersons on the lack of a full-time managing director to execute the crucial project, Patil said the matter will be resolved shortly. "We want to have a general cadre administrative officer (IAS) while Railways is keen on having an IRSE (Indian Railway Service of Engineers). We have had rounds of deliberations on this and it will be sorted soon," Patil said.

Rlys delaying nod for alignment of two corridors: K-RIDE

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

FACING charges of delaying the Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP), K-RIDE, the nodal agency for implementing the project, laid the blame at the door of Indian Railways.

A top official said that even tenders could not be called for two of four corridors of the 148.17-km project as South Western Railway (SWR) did not give the green signal. "We have submitted our proposal to the Railways in connection with the alignment of the line for Corridor 1 (KSR Bengaluru to Devanahalli) and Corridor 3 (Kengeri to Whitefield). The Railways is yet to approve them. So we are not able to issue tenders to begin work," he said.

The proposal for the Airport suburban line was submitted to Bengaluru division on July 5, 2022. "SWR returned the observations on September 22 and we replied to it on November 22, 2022. However, we still haven't got the green signal for its alignment," the official said.

Regarding the Corridor-3 line (Parijata) from Kengeri to Whitefield, another official said the alignment plan was submitted between Whitefield and Cantonment to the Chief Project Manager of Gati Shakti on December 29 last year for approval. "SWR advised K-RIDE on March 13 this year to undertake a detailed study on the inoperability issues on sharing of corridor by both Indian Railways and BSRP. RITES was issued a letter of authorisation on May 18, 2023, to carry out a feasibility study for sharing of corridor between trains operated by Suburban Rail and Indian Railways, where quadrupling of tracks is presently on. The study is under progress," he said.

The alignment between Bengaluru Cantonment and Kengeri is in an advanced stage of finalisation, he added. The ongoing tender being evaluated for Corridor 4 or Kanaka Line (Heelalige to Rajanakunte) was issued despite the chief transportation planning manager and chief planning and design engineer of SWR still to give their consent, another official said.

Asked for a response to the charges, a senior railway official of SWR said he would get back.

All 1,695 illegal schools will be shut, students shifted: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ILLEGAL schools operating across the state will be shut down in a phased manner and strict action will be taken against officials if new such schools crop up, said Primary and Secondary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa on Friday. The students from such schools will be transferred, he added.

"There are 1,695 illegal schools in the state as of 2022-23 and the department has instructed such schools to shut down. Necessary action will be taken against district authorities if such schools are found operating," he said.

The minister added, "Thousands of students are studying in these schools, we have to think of their welfare. We will move students to other schools. As many as 190 schools have shifted locations without permission. These illegal schools will be shut down phase wise." He stated that block education officers will be held responsible.

SCHOOLS IN THE DOCK

Registered	26
Upgraded without permission	76
Following different curriculum	143
Illegal additional sections	631
Shifted without permission	190
Handed over without permission	15
State and Central curriculum in the same building	495
Total	1,695

On registration of new private schools, Bangarappa said geotags will be installed in systems to regularly photograph the facilities and allow for approval online. The department stated that the rejected applications for schools have been given another opportunity to submit documents by September 16.

Meeting with stakeholders

The education minister also met around 60 stakeholders to resolve issues and approve several proposals. The Karnataka Private School Managements, Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff Co-ordination Committee (KPMTCC), Recognised Unaided Private Schools' Association (RUPSA), Associated Managements Of Schools In Karnataka (KAMS) and the Karnataka Unaided Schools Managements' Association (KUSMA) and various other organisations were present. Bangaraapa said, "Most of the issues discussed in the meeting is something that the department can tackle and will be resolved soon."

Shashi Kumar, General Secretary, KAMS, said, "We are expecting a positive response from the department. We listed 10 suggestions and demands such as fire safety in schools, regulating nursery schools, land conversion of schools and emphasised that none of the orders passed by the high court in the last eight months has been implemented yet."

The minister added that corruption will not be tolerated and action will be taken against those found guilty.

Street dogs foil sandalwood theft, two nabbed

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

ALERT street dogs foiled an attempt by a few sandalwood thieves to steal the precious wood from the premises of BWSSB official quarters in Rajajinagar 1st N block.

The residents were alerted by the constant barking of dogs. Hearing the barking sound, the residents went towards the trees and managed to nab two of the five members. A BWSSB assistant executive engineer (AEE) has filed a complaint. The police have registered a case under the Karnataka Forest Act along with other sections of the IPC. Even the accused have filed a complaint against the public for attacking them with wooden planks.

The incident occurred between 10.30 pm and 10.45 pm on Monday on the BWSSB premises Uttara Paschima-1 subdivision in Rajajinagar. B Harish Naik, the BWSSB's assistant executive engineer, filed a police complaint on Tuesday morning. "After the dogs started barking, the security guard along with people staying in the quarters rushed to the spot. Even the patrolling vehicle was nearby. Of the five poachers, three managed to escape. The two others slipped and fell, and were handed over to the police.

The BWSSB facility has over 10 sandalwood trees that are more than 10 years old. There was a theft on the same premises a decade ago. The accused are suspected to have planned the operation for the last one week. They had hidden the tree cutting tools inside the plants. All the tools have been recorded," Harish Naik, told TNIE.

The sandalwood poachers are identified as Rasul, 36, and Sheikh Nazir, 35, both from Mathighatta post in Chikkanayakanahalli of Tumakuru.

"The two have filed a complaint against the unknown public accusing them of attacking them with wooden planks. They were treated at the KC General Hospital. The duo have revealed the details of their associates who are yet to be arrested," said a police officer.

The police have registered a case under the Karnataka Forest Act of 1963 and theft (IPC 379). Based on the complaint filed by the two accused, the police have registered a case of causing hurt by dangerous weapons (IPC 324).

Youth Cong launches Pehla Vote campaign

The Indian Youth Congress (IYC) has launched a 'Pehla Vote' campaign to increase the number of first-time voters for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. During the campaign, a display truck mounted with QR code will move around public places, including colleges, tuition centres, bus stations and malls, to register first-time voters. India has 17.5 crore voters who fall under the 18- 25 age bracket forming a formidable first-time voter base. In 2019, BJP had managed to gain 41% of votes in this segment whereas Congress had managed to gain only 24%. The campaign is being headed by IYC General Secretary M S Raksha Ramaiah. ENS

12TH August : At the centre of our galaxy lies a huge black hole, sucking in as much matter and energy as it can cope with. One day it may even suck us in as well, but not for several thousands of millions of years. By then humanity might well have worked out how to travel through time, which would offer a handy escape route.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon's monthly passage through an ambitious region of your solar chart always brings a heightened concentration on career and worldly aspirations. All the signs are that today's activities should be less complicated than they often were in the past, which should be a relief.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You're ready and willing to take on the responsibility for seeing that joint plans work out. In fact, the businesslike alignments in your chart are so strong that even love affairs fall under their sway, in a manner of speaking. In other words, you'll have to work to keep relationships on the line.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
You're keen to do the right thing, and the ethical situation is looking interesting, to say the least. You'll probably find that at the root of all working relationships and obligations lies a general concern over standards. Other people may disagree, mind you.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You've made some fine judgements, and a calculated risk could now pay off. The best purchases and investments are likely to combine beauty with tradition - antiques, for example. The most ideal romantic partners are those offering security in addition to passion.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
People at home are unlikely to make many demands. But, even if they only make one, they will force the issue with such persistence that you will have to be very strong indeed if you are to resist. It's all to do with a challenge from the Moon - but it won't last long.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
A stressful and challenging aspect can be turned to good advantage if you are determined to succeed - and unwilling to be put off by temporary distractions. It's excellent for all who are genuinely in search of new work, or who are happy to broaden their horizons.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A financial risk may be a better bet than an emotional one, but only if, paradoxically, your goal is to maintain the status quo. Your main romantic consideration will be the desire for long-term stability, and all social arrangements must be placed on a formal footing.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's a time for elegance, grace and traditional values. You may be strangely fascinated by romantic bad luck, but it is no use dwelling on memories or wallowing in regret. Instead, you should actively plan your future in the knowledge that, even if plans don't work out as intended, they might work out better than you hoped.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Mercury's delicate relationship with Neptune is just one aspect which teases you with nostalgia and sentiment. If you're in business, shuffling huge sums of cash or making large purchases, do be aware that such feelings will influence your financial decisions.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It is ironic that while today's lunar aspect gives you the advantage at home and in family affairs, it also makes you more sensitive. Then again, perhaps you will get what you want more easily if you are prepared to reveal your feelings. Partners' respect for you can only increase if you show how honest you are.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Keep yourself to yourself, and don't let anyone probe into affairs which are yours and yours alone. Also, remember that at work, and in the public arena, it is your ability to get on with authority figures that is crucial. It's all a matter of reaching a suitable compromise.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
A discreet romantic connection may be given a formal dimension. Which is to say that you and a loved one will be happy to be left alone and free from prying eyes, even when you're out with the gang. If there's one point to remember though, it's to keep talking!

A Udupi court sentenced a 32-year-old man to 20 years in rigorous imprisonment along with a `10,000 fine under the Pocso Act for sexually assaulting a 15-year-old girl on November 14, 2018. When the girl was on her way to school, the convict, Ashok S arrived in a car, took her to his friend's house and sexually assaulted her

FIRE VICTIMS SHIFTED TO VICTORIA BURNS WARD

Three of nine patients suffer severe burns; Docs fear benzene inhalation could worsen condition

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

THE chemical fumes and fire which erupted at the quality control cell of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) head office, left the victim's bodies blackened and led to major burns on their faces, hands and legs. Shanthala, a close friend of one of the victims, Vijayamala, met her at the burns ward. "She suffered facial burns but her condition is stable now. She gained consciousness after some time but did not talk about what actually led to the eruption," she said.

Officials, families and acquaintances of the victims gathered at the burns ward of Victoria Hospital soon after they were shifted here. Another group of BBMP officials waiting outside the ward said they managed to meet their colleagues who were in a stable condition.

The fire at the BBMP office initially spread chaos in the emergency ward of nearby St Martha's Hospital, and later the victims were transferred to Victoria Hospital due to non-availability of a burns ward at Martha's.

Doctors at the casualty ward at Martha's, who treated the patients first, said, "We are unaware of the exact cause of the injuries, and all patients had suffered varying severity of burns. They were transferred to Victoria since we do not specialise in treating burns patients. We provided them with basic first aid, pain relief injections and medicines," a doctor said. Three of the nine patients suffered severe burns and all patients have 30-40 per cent severe burns, said Dr Ramesh TK, head of the burns ward. Inhalation of benzene fumes also resulted in inhalation burns, making them more prone to infection.

Doctors explained that inhaling benzene could result in inflammation of lungs and cause pulmonary edema. The lung tissue can get swollen due to the chemicals. Hence, all patients were kept under observation and lung profiling and necessary treatment was being done, doctors said.

One of the victims was a dialysis patient who was transferred to the trauma care centre at Victoria Hospital.

EYEWITNESS ACCOUNT

Kamalamma, who had come to the Palike office for some work, said, "I noticed a staff member coming out of the Quality Control Cell with some kind of dark solution. He poured it outside and within seconds, thick smoke and flames were noticed from the building. Soon drivers and others came and removed the bikes parked near the office. The staff were screaming and running outside. Seeing them in pain, people put mud and sand on them to put off the fire. Later, fire tenders and an ambulance arrived."

CM, DyCM visit victims

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar enquired about the fire at the BBMP head office with Bengaluru City Police Commissioner B Dayananad and BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath the moment they landed at HAL airport from Belagavi on Friday evening. Both rushed to Victoria Hospital's burns ward. After seeing the injured BBMP officials, the CM ordered the injured to be shifted to the trauma care ward.

PRAHALAD TO PROBE

Engineer-in-chief BS Prahalad was appointed to conduct an internal technical inquiry into the cause of the fire accident at BBMP's Quality Assurance Laboratory cell. As per the order, he shall also suggest suitable technical and infrastructural measures to avoid such incidents in future. He can also take the opinion of experts in the field to set up safe laboratories. The report is to be submitted on or before August 31.

QUALITY CONTROL CELL TO BE SHIFTED

Reacting to reports of the Opposition taking a dig at the fire incident and doubting the government, DyCM DK Shivakumar said, "Let then say what they want. Our aim is best treatment for the injured victims. There will also be a probe. We are now contemplating shifting the Quality Control Cell."

MAJOR FIRE IN 2011

A major fire broke out at the BBMP head office in 2011 in which files pertaining to works worth Rs 1,539 crore were destroyed. After that CCTVs were installed at the head office.

'Testing a dangerous exercise, done daily'

BENZENE was stored on the ground floor of the quality control cell's ground-plus-one building. However, the quantity of benzene stored there is yet to be verified, although BBMP officials said only a limited stock of bitumen and benzene was stored there, due to which the explosion was small. The employees suffered 35-40 per cent burns. Sources said had the sample size and benzene quantity been high, it could have been catastrophic. "Although testing is done every day, it is a dangerous exercise. Those working in the lab and the BBMP engineers have been requesting ever since the lab was set up to shift it to another location. But it was never done. There is also no knowledge of how many litres of benzene solution was stored and the other flammable items in the lab at the time of the blast," a source said.

"Quality check of road samples is done on a daily basis at the lab. Random road samples are taken and testing done. Never has such a blast happened. The quantity of benzene poured could have been higher than required. While lighting the matchstick things must have gone wrong, leading to an explosion," the source said. The injured have been identified as Sivakumar, chief engineer; Kiran, executive engineer; Santosh Kumar, executive engineer; Vijayamala, executive engineer; Sridhar, assistant executive engineer; Siraj Ahmed, first division clerk; Jyoti, operator; Srinivas, project management consultant; and Manoj, data entry operator.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said, "The injured were rushed to St Marthas Hospital. After first aid, they were shifted to Victoria Hospital's burns ward." He said inspectors of the electrical department will probe the reasons for the fire.

Dr Ramesh Krishna, dean and director of Victoria Hospital, said, "There are some deep burns and we cannot say everything is okay. Out of nine victims, two are women. Three have severe facial burns."

Meanwhile, the cell has been sealed for the forensic science laboratory team's investigation. A case has been registered at Halasuru Gate police station.

Cement firm takes dealers on junket, one smuggles back gold

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A week-long junket organised by cement company for its top dealers from Bengaluru to Bangkok ended on a sour note as one of them was caught trying to smuggle gold. Apart from this Raichur native who tried to smuggle 619g of gold, two Malaysians were also caught in the early hours of Friday for smuggling gold chains weighing nearly 2 kg.

The worth of the total seizures is valued at nearly Rs 1.57 crore, said officials.

All the three have been booked under Section 110 of the Customs Act.

An official said that the first seizure was made from the 60-strong group sent to Bangkok by a Maharashtra-based concern when they arrived at Terminal 1 by Thai Airways International (TG 235) at 11.35 pm. When asked about the large number, it was revealed that the largely male group were dealers who were rewarded for meeting their targets. Above average performers were allowed to bring a family member along.

"Based on behaviourial profiling of the group, we identified a few. Physical frisking was done post midnight. A passenger was found wearing a thick, silver coloured kada weighing 419g on his arm, well concealed by his shirt as well as jacket. When we used a hard stone on it, the colour turned golden which meant he had coated it with Rhodium. It was 24 carat gold (crude gold) which is banned in India. He was also found in possession of a crude gold chain in his hand baggage weighing 170g," the official said.

The items are totally worth Rs 37 lakh.

The second interception occurred in a flight from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, which arrived by 11.50 pm.

"We found a 37-year-old lady and her male accomplice (24 years) both Malaysian nationals opting for the Green Channel (nothing to declare). We found it odd that they were walking together but split immediately when they neared the Customs zone," another official said. They were found to be wearing a gold chain each which totally weighed 1.3 kg. It was almost like a dog belt around their necks. They also had two crude gold chains in their hand bags. The total gold seized from the duo weighed 1.99 kg and is valued at Rs 1.19 crore.

Man trying to sell tusks held, 5 ivories seized

BENGALURU: The RMC Yard police arrested a man who was allegedly trying to sell elephant tusks and seized five elephant ivories weighing 7.42 kg. The police said they received a credible tip-off that a person was trying to sell ivories on Ullas Road in Yashwantpur Industrial Area on Thursday evening. The police arrested the accused after he was found in possession of five ivories. Another accused involved in the case is absconding and efforts are on to nab him. The accused has been booked under the provisions of the Wildlife Protection Act. Investigations are on. ENS

Woman found dead outside her house

Bengaluru: A 21-year-old woman was found dead under mysterious circumstances outside her house in Mahadevapura police station limits. The body was found in a shed on Friday morning. Neighbours who saw the body, informed her sister. The victim had gone missing around 8pm Thursday. Her sister had filed a missing complaint. The accused had strangled her to death with a black sacred thread she was wearing around her neck. The victim, identified as Mahanandi, was living with her sister in Maheshwarinagar. The sisters from Kalaburagi were working in a petrol bunk. The complainant stated that both of them stayed home on Thursday as it was their weekly off. Mahanandi left home after preparing dinner. As she did not return, the complainant went in search of her and checked with her neighbours. At night, she approached the police. Police are waiting for the postmortem report to ascertain if she was sexually assaulted before being murdered. Mahadevapura police registered a case of murder and are investigating. ENS

Will quit politics if I've asked for commission: DKS

● DyCM asks why contractors weren't paid by BJP govt ● Charges baseless: CM ● BJP calls Kempanna a Cong agent

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who is also Bengaluru in-charge minister, on Friday said, "I will quit politics if I have asked for a commission from contractors." He was reacting to allegations by some opposition members that Congress leaders are demanding a 10-15 per cent commission to clear the bills

Shivakumar asked caustically, "Who has asked for this commission? Did DK Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah, ministers, MLAs or authorities ask?"

He said, "Why did BJP, which is so concerned about unpaid bills of contractors, pay them? Why didn't then Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai clear the bills of contractors during his tenure? Bommai and Ashoka (BJP MLA) are raising the issue of unpaid bills to contractors. Did they lack the resources or finances? Let the rancorous BJP leaders answer this question first."

He said, "Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has asked us to check whether the work has been done and whether Kempanna's complaints about 40 per cent commission are true."

He was referring to State Contractors' Association president D Kempanna, who had alleged that top leaders and ministers in the then BJP government had sought a 40 per cent commission to clear the bills for the works done.

Shivakumar said, "BJP leaders had also asked the House to inquire into irregularities in the works. We have formed an inquiry committee, asking it to verify whether the works as claimed have been done. The investigation is being conducted across the state. If the work is done, the bill will be paid. Can't we wait for sometime now? Contractors should not talk about committing suicide or mercy killing. I know who is behind their statements. In a democracy, such accusations and counter-allegations are to be expected. The contractors are seeking the help of Ashoka and HD Kumaraswamy (JDS senior leader)."

When pointed out that Kempanna had alleged that an official, whom he met at a prominent private hotel, had demanded the commission on behalf of the government, Shivakumar said, "Kempanna is a respectable person. I don't know what he said. If what he says is true, they should file an affidavit and a complaint against the officer."

BJP targeting us as it fears losing 2024 LS polls: Siddaramaiah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

AMID the corruption charges levelled against the State Government by a section of contractors, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday hit out at the BJP for targeting his government unnecessarily. The CM said the saffron party was levelling baseless allegations against the government as it feared losing the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. Siddaramaiah said that the BJP had no issues to raise and hence was levelling false allegations against the State Government and the ministers. "They are targeting us without any proof after the success of our guarantees," he added.

He said the president of the Karnataka State Contractors' Association D Kempanna had not made any allegations against Deputy CM DK Shivakumar and Agriculture Minister Chaluvarayaswamy. "These are the plans of the BJP. They were in power for three years but could not pay the contractors. What moral right do they have now to fight by joining hands with the same contractors?" he said.

He recalled that the government has formed four teams to probe BBMP works implemented during the previous BJP regime. The CM said that the government has also ordered an investigation led by retired judge Justice B Veerappa into the alleged 40% scam of the BJP government. "It is not reasonable to release the outstanding bill money before the investigations are complete. The government will not allow injustice to any contractor who has done the work in a fair manner," he said.

He said the state's financial situation was a mess during the previous BJP rule. "They (BJP) are the reason for corruption, inflation and communal politics. Now, they are scared as the Congress returned to power in Karnataka by winning 135 seats. We will win at least 20 Lok Sabha seats in the state in 2024. People are happy with our guarantee schemes... these schemes have disturbed the JDS and BJP," he said, adding that the Gruha Lakshmi scheme will be launched in Belagavi on August 27 and Congress leader Sonia Gandhi has been invited for the launch.

On the guarantees, the CM said it would result in an increase in financial activities, and the GDP will also get a boost. The Yuvanidhi scheme would be implemented in December, he added.

Siddaramaiah: Will decide on reprobe into Santosh suicide after discussion with cops

Belagavi: Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said here on Friday that he will decide on ordering a reinvestigation by the CID into the suicide of Santosh Patil, as demanded by the late contractor's wife and mother, after discussing it with the police and legal department. Patil's mother Parvathi and wife Jayashri met Siddaramaiah on his arrival at the Sambra Airport and said they wanted a reprobe to get justice. Jayashri, with tears in her eyes, told the chief minister, "I lost my husband and we have also not received pending bills for the works he carried out. They promised me a job, but too was not done. In such a situation, how do I survive with a small child?" Parvathi said, "My son could have been saved and he would be alive today if one signature was made to clear his pending bills. (BJP leader) KS Eshwarappa would be a blessed person if he had saved my son. Instead, Eshwarappa celebrated after the police department gave a 'B report', clearing his name in the case. Would he eat sweets, if someone had died in his family?"

BJP seeks Lokayukta probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Bharatiya Janata Party on Friday accused the Congress government in Karnataka of being involved in rampant corruption and demanded that the Lokayukta probe the allegations that Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar demanded commission from contractors. The BJP also slammed the State Contractors Association President D Kempanna calling him an agent of the Congress.

Speaking to reporters, BJP MLA and former DyCM Dr CN Ashwath Narayan said that there are many super CMs and shadow CMs in the present government, which is known as the ATM government.

"There are allegations that money required for the Congress across the country is being collected in Karnataka. There are also allegations that the government is demanding commission to release funds. The government must order a Lokayukta probe into the allegations against Shivakumar," he elaborated.

The former DyCM said that the government is facing allegations of recovering money spent during the recent Assembly polls and also for the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

BJP MLA and former minister K Gopalaiah urged Kempanna to give names of MLAs or ministers to whom the contractors had given 40% commission. "He should give the details within 24 hours or apologise to the people of the state. Kempanna took the kickback from Congress to make it an issue," he said.

He also hit out at Shivakumar's Technical Advisor KT Nagaraj. "We need to look at his background and probe Rs 900 crore tenders called when he was the chief engineer at the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike," he said. He sought the Governor's intervention to help contractors to get their dues.

Contractors set govt August 31 deadline to release ₹25,000cr dues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA State Contractors' Association president D Kempanna, who had said he was committed to fight the '40 per cent commission' for tenders of the previous BJP government, has set the Congress government a deadline of August 31 to release Rs 25,000 crore in dues to contractors.

"We have sought an appointment with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM D K Shivakumar, and if our issue is not settled, we will call a meeting of the association to take a decision," he stated.

Addressing a press conference with office-bearers here on Friday, he said they will submit evidential documents in 12 booklets to the single-man panel headed by a retired judge. On the allegation that Shivakumar had demanded 15 per cent commission to release dues to BBMP contractors, Kempanna said, "Not a single case has come to the association, and we are in no way concerned as a split group has made the allegation. Let them provide evidence, we will back them or move court."

He claimed that none of the contractors had complained about commission in the new government, and the question does not arise as no new work orders were issued.

He rued that despite meeting the CM, DyCM, PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi and RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge and issuing two petitions -- on June 28 and July 30 -- no action was taken. "CM expressed his helplessness, as there was pressure on him since the government is new, and dues for two or three years are huge. But a small amount was released," he said.

Karnataka State Contractors' Association chief D Kempanna addresses the media on Friday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

'BOMMAI A LIAR, KARJOL INVOLVED'

Kempanna accused former CM Basavaraj Bommai of lying that he had maintained seniority in releasing dues of contractors. "I have all documents, he has only ensured release of funds to certain contractors. Bommai should not lie. He did not give us a proper audience when he was CM. If he was committed, he would have settled our problems, but is talking about them now," he alleged. Kempanna also alleged that former minister Govind Karjol and Karnataka Neeravari Nigama Limited managing director Mallkarjuna B Gunge were involved in corruption in the irrigation department. "I am writing to DyCM Shivakumar to conduct a probe into it," he said.

Contractor to withdraw charges against DKS

Kempanna said he will oppose setting up of four panels to probe BBMP works of the past four years, as the guarantee period for the works is one year. He claimed that contractor Hemanth, who had made a '15 per cent commission' allegation against Shivakumar, and challenged him to take an oath, has repented and cited stress due to family issues. "He is going to withdraw his statement," Kempanna claimed.

Political slugfest over BBMP office fire

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Congress and BJP started a blame game over a fire at the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) office on Friday. While Congress called it a conspiracy, BJP leaders hit back saying the incident exposed the inefficient government as it could not protect important documents. "The Congress government could not prove the 40 per cent allegation and therefore has put the documents on fire," BJP MLA Basanagoud Patil Yatnal alleged.

The Congress state unit said the fire at the BBMP quality control office was a case of arson as an inquiry has been ordered into the 40% commission allegation during the BJP government. "It shows that BJP is trying to safeguard corruption," it stated. Yatnal tweeted, "Your government, your officials and your own administration. Looks like it is your work to put fire. Is the government failing to protect government files? Unable to prove 40 per cent commission allegation, the government is trying to put the fire. The fire in BBMP shows incompetent administration."

Told officials to clear certain bills after scrutiny, says Siddaramaiah

The CM said former CM Basavaraj Bommai has sought Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's intervention in clearing the bills of contractors. Only the PM has the power to direct the State Government on such matters. "If Bommai is asking Rahul Gandhi to do this, then he (Bommai) is conceding that the PM is inefficient," he said sarcastically.

Siddaramaiah said all contractors, including members of BBMP Contractors' Association, have discussed their grievances with him. "We have instructed the officials to clear certain bills after a thorough scrutiny."

MY TAKE

TRYING 1 MACH ON B-MACH? DON'T EVEN THINK ABOUT IT!

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

A joke goes this way: A police officer stops a group of youths speeding well above the maximum limit on Bengaluru-Mysuru Access Controlled Highway (B-MACH). When the violation is pointed out, the driver says, "But I was well below the limit!" The officer re-checks the recorded speed and shows it to the driver. In response, the bewildered driver says: "See? I told you I was well below the speed limit!". He turns and points to the signage on the median. The officer: "It says '275', but that's the highway number, not the speed limit!"

It may well have been a true story, going by the way motorists speed on the highways! But what is far from a joke is that since January, about 140 people have died on this 118-Km-long 10-lane BMACH, which Prime Minister Narendra Modi officially inaugurated on March 12.

Soon after the inauguration, heavy rains rendered parts of the highway (which was then erroneously referred to as "expressway") water-logged, and a part of it sunk, needing repairs on the newly-laid road. It immediately became an election point in the assembly polls-bound Karnataka with Congress blaming the BJP-ruled Centre for designing this part of the national highway without scientific planning. The accidents and deaths, too, were linked to an alleged lack of science in planning the road.

But senior police officials and experts were quick to point out that it was more about rash, careless and negligent driving/riding than just lack of scientific planning on the road that caused the accidents. Whether roads are scientifically planned or not — although it is absolutely necessary that they should be — it is finally up to the drivers to ensure that accidents do not occur, and one way to ensure that is to drive safely below the maximum speed limit.

Unfortunately, that is not the only problem. Slow-moving vehicles are found in the fast lanes, forcing the fast-moving ones to swerve into the slower lanes, and get in the way of vehicles faster than them approaching from behind. Many drivers are also ignorant about the need to remain in the appropriate speed lanes, while several other motorists believe that they have to mandatorily touch the maximum speed limit, with many even speeding well over that limit. All these make for a readymade recipe for disaster.

While this highway was touted as an "expressway", motorists blindly assumed that the speed limit was 120 Km/hour. But recently, the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) clarified that what was being assumed to be an "expressway" is actually an access-controlled national highway, the speed limit being 100 Km/hour.

Also, had the drivers and riders been disciplined, keeping within the speed limits and the respective lanes demarcated for them as per their speed and type of vehicles, there may not have been any need to prohibit two-wheelers, three-wheelers and tractors on the B-MACH. These have now been prohibited since August 1 on B-MACH.

With the B-MACH under the scanner, enforcement has been intensified on this highway. The month of July saw eight deaths against 29 in May and 28 in June. With the prohibition of two-wheelers, three-wheelers and tractors on the main thoroughfare of B-MACH — amid protests and questions over the decision — safety may have received a fillip on this highway.

However, it needs to be remembered that it is finally up to safe driving skills that will achieve zero deaths on the roads, be they expressways or highways, city roads or town roads, or even the narrow roads that wind through to connect villages.

Also to be remembered is that driving is an art and a skill, loaded with responsibility. Used irresponsibily, on expressways or highways, a vehicle can transform into a deadly weapon that may not just claim others' lives, but yours as well.

DKS SHOULD HAVE BEEN CM, SAYS BJP MLA

TUMAKURU: At a time when BJP state leaders, including R Ashoka, are slamming DyCM DK Shivakumar over corruption charges, Tumakuru Rural BJP MLA B Suresh Gowda said had the Vokkaliga community raised its voice, Shivakumar would have become CM. "If the Congress has come to power in the state, it is because of Shivakumar's leadership. But none from the community raised their voice to insist the Congress should make him chief minister. When it comes to leadership of the community and power, we should raise our voice. If we had not done so in the past, H D Deve Gowda would not have become chief minister," he said at a Kempegowda Jayanti event organised at Gubbi Veeranna Kalakshetra. The two-time MLA even repented defeating Deve Gowda during the 2019 Lok Sabha polls from Tumakuru, when he was the Congress-JDS alliance candidate. "I made a mistake then but the community leaders should have suggested to us not to defeat Gowda," he said. He mentioned Vokkaliga leaders' contribution in the district, including former minister Huchamasti Gowda, late Y K Ramaiah, Andanappa, former LS member S P Muddahanume Gowda. Community leaders, including Shivakumar's kin and Kunigal MLA Dr Ranganath were among others present.

HUBBALLI'S NATIONAL FLAG-MAKING UNIT FLYING HIGH

Women employees of Khadi Federation near Hubballi work full-time to meet the orders of National Flag for Independence Day | D HEMANTH

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

THE country's only BIS-certified National Flag-making unit in Hubballi aims to do a business of Rs 1.75 crore by the end of this year's Independence Day.

This is the second consecutive year that the unit is making more than Rs 1.5 crore after the Union Government announced the 'Har Ghar Tiranga' campaign last year on the occasion of 75 years of independence.

Officials at the Karnataka Khadi Gramodyoga Samyukta Sangha, which manages the khadi produce and the National Flag-making unit in Bengeri of Hubballi, said that the unit has sold flags of various sizes worth Rs 1.10 crore between April 2023 and July 2023.

"Due to Har Ghar Tiranga, our business has improved since the last two years. The Hubballi unit gets orders from across the country during Republic Day and Independence Day. The Tricolour fluttering on important buildings in India such as the Rashtrapati Bhavan, Red Fort and Parliament are knitted in our Hubballi unit. Our National Flag at India embassies across the world were also made here," explained an official from the Khadi Federation.

The official explained that flags of different sizes are prepared at the Hubballi unit throughout the year. The Bengeri khadi unit has maximum numbers of women workers who work on stitching, ironing and packing of the National Flags. The orders and sales increase during the national festival. After the government made it compulsory to use khadi flags at all gram panchayats and other government offices, the demand for khadi flags has increased, said the official.

"Its important that the organisations and educational institutions celebrating Independence Day and Republic Day use National Flag made of khadi flag. Khadi is a symbol of India's freedom struggle and gives employment to thousands of women in North Karnataka. "For instance, the khadi material for the national flags is prepared in small Khadi units in Bagalkot and later they are stitched and packed in Hubballi," the official added.

'Officers entered into criminal conspiracy'

According to the complaint, the police seized two pen drives on November 9, 2020. They were subjected to mirror imaging on November 11 and it was found that additional files were created in them. A hard disc and an Apple Macbook were seized on Nov 17 and the tests revealed additional files were created between November 18 and 21. Similarly, additional files were created in another MacBook between Nov 20 and 21 while the device was seized on Nov 19.

"Prima facie, the offence appears to be committed between November 9 and December 16 in 2020 at the CCB office and other places. The investigating officers of CCB and other police officers, apparently, entered into a criminal conspiracy and created additional files, which were not there in the digital devices when they were seized, with an intent to destroy evidence and tampered with the evidence," the complaint stated.

The Cottonpet police registered the FIR under Section 204 (destruction of document or electronic record to prevent its production as evidence), 120B (criminal conspiracy), 409 (criminal breach of trust by public servant) and 426 (mischief) of the IPC.

Sharmila seals deal, to merge with Congress

Will meet Rahul, Priyanka soon; YSRTP, Cong high command working out nitty-gritty

IREDDY SRINIVAS REDDY
@Hyderabad

YS Sharmila, president of YSR Telangana Party, is set to merge her party with the Congress before the month-end, most likely on August 18, according to sources.

Sharmila, who visited Delhi, is said to have held a key meeting with AICC general secretary KC Venugopal. Discussions centred around the party's merger and conditions set forth by Sharmila to close the deal. When she returned to Hyderabad, the YSRTP president chose to keep up the suspense. Notably, she thanked Bhongir MP Komatireddy Venkat Reddy for inviting her into the party.

However, sources said the AICC expressed satisfaction with Sharmila's stipulations. Her conditions reportedly include a commitment to contest solely from Telangana, refrain from Rajya Sabha aspirations, and her willingness to campaign for the Congress in Andhra Pradesh for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

Venugopal, acting on behalf of the Congress high command, is said to have informed Sharmila to prepare for the next crucial step – a final meeting with prominent Congress leaders, including AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge and party leaders Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi. This meeting is expected to take place in the coming week, when the merger is expected to be finalised and announced.

Sources in the AICC said Sharmila initially expressed her desire to contest from Paleru constituency. However, during informal discussions, Venugopal suggested that she consider Secunderabad assembly constituency as this would boost the morale of the party cadre in Greater Hyderabad limits, where the Congress is weak.

Sharmila reportedly agreed to think about it and provide her response at the next meeting.

Meanwhile, Telangana Congress leaders, including Komatireddy Venkat Reddy and others extended a warm welcome to leaders and parties interested in aligning with the Congress, if their entry helps the party dethrone Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao in the upcoming assembly elections.

SPAT AT CAUVERY MEET, TN DELEGATION WALKS OUT

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

A team of officials led by Tamil Nadu water resources secretary Sandeep Saxena staged a walkout from the meeting of the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) in New Delhi on Friday after the authority decided to reduce the quantum of water to be released to Tamil Nadu from Karnataka to 10,000 cusecs.

The Cauvery Water Regulation Committee (CWRC) had told Karnataka on Thursday to release 15,000 cusecs.

Official sources said the Tamil Nadu team decided to walk out as the CWMA decided to reduce the quantum of water without giving any reasons. "The TN team didn't want to be part of such an arbitrary decision taken under pressure from Karnataka." Sources said after the Friday meeting, the CWMA officially directed the Karnataka government to release 10,000 cusecs of water to Tamil Nadu.

"The decision that was arrived at after long deliberations was Karnataka must ensure Tamil Nadu gets 15,000 cusecs of water at Billigundulu for the next 15 days, as decided by the CWRC on Thursday, after taking into account all factors. But Karnataka members didn't agree to it at the CWMA meeting and said they would release only 8,000 cusecs. Under threat from Karnataka, without giving any justification, CWMA wanted to reduce the quantum to 10,000 cusecs. Hence our team staged a walkout," sources said.

Tamil Nadu water resources secretary said, "The authority should give directions to Karnataka for the release of water on a daily basis. But Karnataka did not agree to Tamil Nadu's request."

Sowjanya case reprobe: Govt getting details: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

DAKSHINA Kannada district Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao on Friday said the state government is gathering details in the Sowjanya rape and murder case and the matter would be discussed with the Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara.

Rao, who was in Puttur to launch the Gruha Jyothi scheme, said, "The CBI has already submitted a report in the case but there is a demand for a fresh investigation. Chief minister Siddaramaiah and the home minister are gathering details of the case to decide on launching a reinvestigation," he said.

Responding to BJP's allegations that the state government is demanding commission, he said the allegation against Dy CM DK Shivakumar is baseless, and "the Opposition leaders are claiming they have pen drives, CDs etc to spread false information and tarnish the government's image."

Bandipur road rage: Accused kin of ex-min

MYSURU: The road rage incident which took place inside the Bandipur Tiger Reserve (BRT) is turning murkier as one of the four accused who attacked the IT firm executive who was travelling with his family is said to be the relative of senior BJP leader and former minister C N Ashwath Narayan. On June 7, the four persons who are civil contractors and engineers, travelling in a Mahindra Thar SUV allegedly intercepted and assaulted Arjun R Nath, an executive with a IT firm in Bengaluru, who was travelling towards Kerala along with his family members.

Two drunk men assault man, drive around in his SUV for 45 minutes

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

TWO drunk men assaulted a man took control of his SUV, and drove around for about 45 minutes before letting him go. They also forcibly transferred Rs 31,000 from his account to theirs, besides breaking the SUV rear view mirror.

The incident occurred around 8.30 pm on Sunday (August 6) on Indiranagar Main Road. The attackers told the victim, Ankit Bubna -- a senior analyst with Paolo Alto, that he had honked at them and also crashed into their vehicle. Bubna told TNIE that he managed to drive away, but had to stop 100m ahead as the traffic had come to a halt. The two men followed him in another car and again started banging on his vehicle. They broke the rear view mirror with a bottle, opened his vehicle door, and threw blows at his face and head. The two then pushed him aside and took over the steering wheel.

The next 45 minutes turned out to be one of the most nightmarish experiences for Bubna. While two men were driving his SUV, two others were following them in another car. The two men in Bubna's car took away his phone, went into the photo section and started inquiring about all the attractive women in his folders.

They forced him to reveal his bank account PIN, and transferred Rs 31,000, which was all he had, into their account in two tranches of Rs 25,000 and Rs 6,000. Bubna requested them that if he had honked at them and hit their car, they could go to the police and file a complaint. But the accused ignored him and continued to drive.

They threatened him that they would enter his house and kill him if he uttered a word to the police. Around 9.30 pm, they stopped his vehicle on a service road in Kasturinagar and left in their car, which was following them.

Bubna did not file a police complaint on Sunday night as he was scared. When he narrated the incident to his friends later, they insisted that he file a complaint with the police. He filed a complaint with the Ramurthy Nagar police.

The police are trying to establish the identities of the accused by scouring through CCTV footage and from the money transfer details from his phone.

Goa on a mission to eradicate rabies

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @Karwar

AFTER declaring itself free from rabies, the state of Goa has now begun vaccinating stray dogs in the neighbouring states of Karnataka and Maharashtra. Mission Rabies was started in Karwar, Joida, Belagavi and other parts of Karnataka with an aim to keep the dreaded disease at a bay for the long run.

Dogs being vaccinated by the Goa government personnel

A team of 11 persons have been deputed by the Government of Goa to vaccinate stray dogs and to make them immune to rabies.

"We have been working as a team in various parts of Karwar since last one month. We vaccinated about 2,000 strays and have set a target to vaccinate 2,000 more," said Latish Bhagat, head, Mission Rabies, Goa. "The aim is to curb the spread of rabies from one state to another, especially in border areas, considering the movement of dogs," he added.

The team is travelling with dog catchers and paramedics in places including Majali, Sadashivgad, and Asnoti. It will be completed by the end of this month. It will be continued in Joida taluk and later focus on border districts of Maharastra, which adjoins Goa.

According to the Animal Husbandry Department, the team had obtained permission to vaccinate the strays in 2022. "This is a project initiated by the State of Goa. It is a World Bank project. This is the second year they are vaccinating dogs. Last year they vaccinated 4,800 dogs. Their aim is to eradicate rabies," Rakesh Bangle, Deputy Director, Department of Animal Husbandry, Uttara Kannada told TNIE.

LEADERS' RESTRAINT CAN PREVENT CADRE CLASHES IN ANDHRA

Clashes between the ruling YSRCP and the opposition TDP have been occurring frequently in Andhra Pradesh, making one wonder whether the state is sitting on a powder keg. The latest confrontation between the two sides in Chittoor district led to violence in which 50 police personnel sustained injuries, with a constable losing his eye. What emerged from this episode is that the police were least prepared for such a turn, and on available evidence, it appears that the TDP cadre went berserk in Punganur, pelting stones and whatnot at the cops.

The trouble began in Angallu village, where TDP chief N Chandrababu Naidu went ostensibly to inspect the progress of irrigation projects. Obviously, some YSRCP workers sought to question his visit by staging a protest, but what transpired later shows the kind of politics at play in AP.

The former CM, usually in control of himself, went off the rails using language that didn't behove his stature. Hours later, his convoy, as per the police, took a diversion from the permitted route. This was when the TDP cadre caught the police off-guard. The police have since slapped an attempt to murder case on Naidu and several of his colleagues for instigating the mob. In a new twist, Naidu claims local YSRCP activists attacked him as part of a conspiracy and is demanding a CBI probe. It is up to the probe agencies to bring the truth to light as the TDP accuses the ruling party's workers of pelting stones at Naidu's congregation. The latter alleges the yellow party deliberately creates a law and order problem.

But we see from the sequence of events that the opposition—TDP and BJP's ally Jana Sena—has made it a point to use extremely provocative language in public meetings and roadshows, inviting the same from the YSRCP. One can only infer that the intent could be to energise the cadre and instil confidence in them while displaying to the other side that they are a force to be reckoned with. We have pointed out in these columns earlier that this strategy, if it is one, doesn't augur well for anyone. Workers follow their leaders and resort to street violence. Leaders of all parties must exercise restraint. One can understand Jana Sena chief Pawan Kalyan's 'filmi' dialogues, but Chandrababu Naidu should not stoop low.

CATTLE-REARING IN CITIES MUST BE REGULATED

That cities have a problem with stray cattle is no surprise. However, a viral video of a stray cow repeatedly attacking a nine-year-old schoolgirl in Chennai brought home the dangers of the phenomenon. The city's residents and commuters have noticed a visible rise in stray cattle on the city's streets, especially since the pandemic. The Chennai Corporation does have a mechanism by which cattle owners can be penalised—impounding the cattle till the owner pays a hefty fine. However, this is a remedy that relies on enforcement.

Of late, there is a perception that enforcement has been lacking. Cows and buffaloes, which earlier roamed the streets at night, now stray through busy thoroughfares in the daytime, sometimes holding up traffic or causing accidents. This week's incident involved a cow, part of a herd moving through a residential area, that grew so agitated by the presence of a child walking nearby that it threw her on the ground and repeatedly gored her. Thankfully, the child has survived.

Yet, while enforcement could indeed be strengthened as the Corporation now promises, it is essential to consider why cattle in the city run loose through traffic, hardly the most felicitous atmosphere for an animal. Aside from the harm caused by traffic accidents, the cattle also end up grazing on garbage, consuming plastic and other materials that affect their health and well-being.

The cattle reared in a metropolitan city like Chennai are mainly for dairy farming. The milk they produce sustains their owners' families and meets local demand. However, cities lack grounds and open spaces where the cattle can roam freely. Till there is demand for the product of the cattle, it is safe to assume they will be reared in the city despite the troubles involved in doing so. The local body can engage with the cattle owners and find a way for the cattle to graze—through licensing of cattle and providing some grazing land, for instance. Chennai is a city that, in its growth, has gobbled up less urbanised spaces while even pockets of its heart have those who rear cattle and chicken to bolster their income; informal economies, whether in livestock-rearing, street-vending, etc., are integral to the city's success. Addressing the issue of livestock-rearing in urban spaces by carrying along all stakeholders will likely have better results than relying solely on penalties.

QUICK TAKE

JUDICIAL DIVERSITY

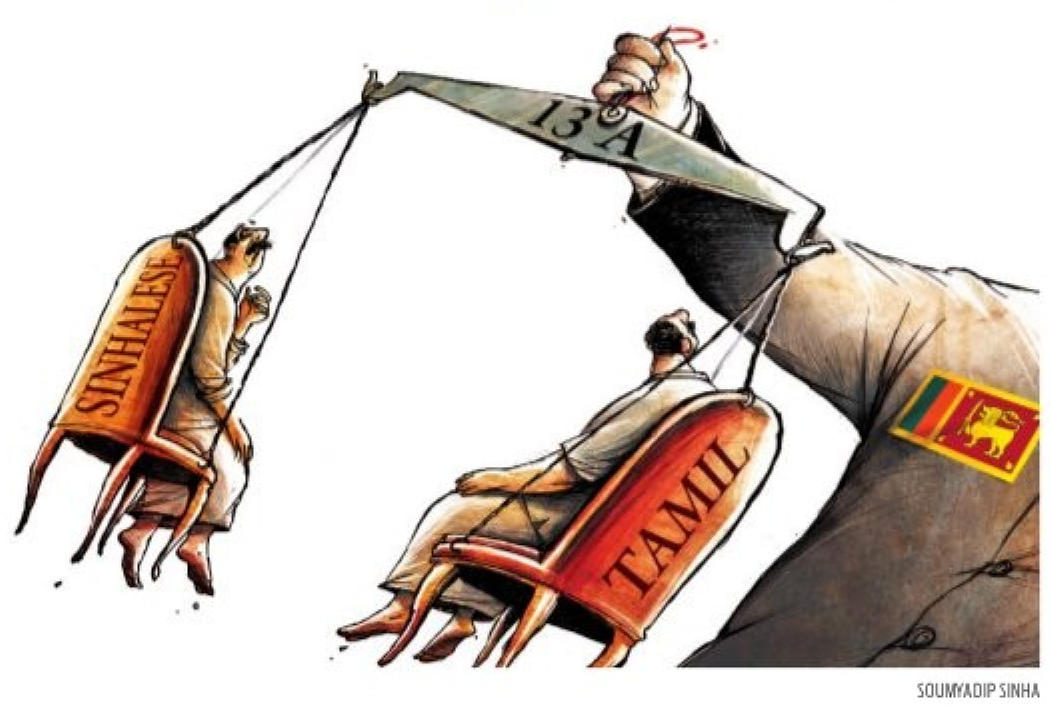
The latest report of the parliamentary committee on law laments the "diversity deficit" in the higher judiciary, but its suggestions appear stretched. Aware there are no reservations in judicial appointments, the committee still insists on adequate representation of marginalised sections, favouring quotas through a constitutional amendment. On the merit principle, the committee observes collegiums use it as a "proxy" to "deny" diversity and "justify" the retention of "a particular class" of judges. No corroboration is forthcoming, however. It also says poor judicial diversity may mean the rights of many social groups "are not being safeguarded". The report doesn't dwell on the remark's implications, if any.

13A has been discussed from ethnic or security standpoints, but not adequately from the political standpoint, with little emphasis on achieving long-lasting peace

FOR SRI LANKA'S 13A, IT'S A MATTER OF TO BE OR NOT TO BE

DILRUKSHI HANDUNNETTI

Award-winning journalist and lawyer. She is a founder and director of the Colombo-based Center for Investigative Reporting (CIR)



SOUMYADIP SINHA

Hot on the heels of his Indian tour, President Ranil Wickremesinghe convened an all-party conference (APC) on July 26 to discuss the future of one of Sri Lanka's most controversial constitutional amendments ever made: the 13th. Enacted following the 1987 Indo-Lanka Peace Accord, it paved the way for the creation of nine provinces as devolved units with a temporary merger of the Northern and Eastern Provinces.

A contentious topic at the best of times, there is general agreement that the provincial councils (PCs) have been made to fail by the Lankan government due to the latter's refusal to empower the provincial administrations meaningfully. The PCs have often appeared as entities that drain public resources and do not serve the public.

From time to time, many Southern political parties have portrayed the PCs as a mechanism designed to undermine the island's sovereignty and territorial integrity—especially before the demerger of the Northeast was achieved. This impression has largely taken root in the South, and both the PCs and the call for power-sharing are viewed by many Southern parties and sections of the public as supporting the 'Tamil cause' or laying the foundation for 'separatism'. Very little has been done to address these fears and win public confidence vis-à-vis power-sharing as a practical way to build trust among communities and for all people to live with a sense of equality and exercise political rights.

The PCs are also seen as a 'solution' thrust upon Sri Lanka by India through a show of power by the latter at a time when it was highly sympathetic to the Tamil political cause wherein certain groups were fighting for a separate homeland for Tamils. There is also a history of Tamil militant groups being trained in parts of South India, so India's interest in power devolution in the island continues to feed suspicions among some sections.

This inherent distrust of intentions is compounded by the idea that power-sharing may result in emboldened Tamil parties undermining Sri Lanka's sovereignty. In short, implementing 13A in full will require significant political will and a genuine effort to educate the South on devolution and its merits, apart from addressing the fears harboured by them.

The Amendment's history and evolution will not make it easy for President Wickremesinghe to garner support among the Southern political parties despite his consistency in pursuing reconciliation—with power-sharing at the core of it. Little wonder that when the APC was convened, political leaders questioned his motives for wanting to bring up the old Amendment, especially when the country's main concern was to overcome the financial crisis.

Many suspected that this was done for reasons ranging from political expediency targeting possible elections next year to paying India back for the emergency assistance it provided during the recent economic crisis.

These concerns were possibly also fuelled by Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call to ensure a "life of respect and dignity" for the Tamil people of Sri Lanka and the full implementation of the 13th Amendment. "We hope Sri Lanka will fulfil the aspirations of the Tamil people. We hope Sri Lanka will fulfil its commitment to implement the 13th Amendment and hold Provincial Council elections," the Indian Premier said during the meeting with President Wickremesinghe.

For his part, the president expressed his genuine desire to implement the Amendment fully. He told party leaders that Sri Lanka should either retain PCs with adequate devolution of power or abolish them. Unlike in the past, or as seen during election campaigns where beating the controversial Amendment is done regularly to garner Southern votes, even arch-critics of power devolution did not condemn the Amendment or the PC system. Instead, they questioned the necessity to prioritise it at this juncture.

On July 31, the Tamil National Alliance claimed the party was consistent on the demand for power devolution since 1956 and urged PC polls be held without delay.

Twenty-five years later, many sour points around 13A remain, with India's motives questioned by many Sri Lankans. It is not seen as a genuine attempt to devolve power but is seen as a strategy that was chalked out over two decades ago to recognise Tamil political aspirations and contain the raging armed struggle at that time. Some fear it would not be treated as adequate, given that Tamil militancy had to be militarily quashed in 2009 after a series of failed political negotiations. India's role in 13A remains a point of rancour.

While the South dabbles in the debate on the sincerity of the move and national security vis-à-vis power devolution, it is already too late for the Northern and Eastern communities. They genuinely feel that successive governments have failed to recognise their political grievances and take timely decisions to demonstrate political sincerity through power-sharing mechanisms.

There is a lot of water under the bridge. The political leaders from the North and South of Sri Lanka need to overcome their hardline positions, acknowledge all valid concerns from both sides and address them sincerely.

Irrespective of the backdrop against which it was introduced, the 13th Amendment is now a part of Sri Lanka's Constitution. For the longest time, it has been discussed from ethnic or security standpoints, but not adequately from the political standpoint, with little emphasis on achieving long-lasting peace and reconciliation. Whenever a discussion from this standpoint did happen, it was often a case of us vs them, replete with mistrust, making progress impossible.

Provincial Councils were established in 1988. A quarter century later, it would be politically regressive to avoid discussing the steps necessary for the island government to enable the effective functioning of these councils.

The biggest challenge would be to alleviate fears and find genuine answers to generate public trust in the system and to find, from the proposals submitted to the president, futuristic ideas to move forward. To fully implement 13A would mean winning the confidence of both the Sinhalese and Tamils. The ghosts need exorcising and genuine concerns from both ends should be addressed to effectively end the cloak and dagger game.

The government—hard as the task may seem—must work to win the confidence of the Sinhalese and demonstrate the value of power-sharing so as to achieve a peaceful Sri Lanka. A genuine commitment must be made to the Tamil people to fully implement 13A, so that they can peacefully coexist with the island's Southern citizens.

SO MUCH BETTER IF OIL IS WELL

RANJAN TANDON

Senior markets specialist and author

Evolving events in the global oil market have been attracting attention similar to a celluloid star's much-awaited performance. Will the new 'release' be a hit or bomb? Production cuts, shifting alliances, high-voltage policy decisions and choosing Vienna (famously host to never-ending spy games) for closed-door meetings while keeping the fourth estate oblivious to the happenings within have all been tried and tested!

With overt dependence on oil income to facilitate economic goals, OPEC+ members feel the pinch. Regardless of their geographical presence, almost the entire oil-producing fraternity has reported much lower revenues in the second quarter of this year with declining oil prices. Yet it would be prudent not to compare 2022 numbers as it was a year of "delinquent exuberance"—courtesy Ukraine war. A higher share of US crude landing in global markets kept the rising prices reined in consequent to production cuts at OPEC+ sources.

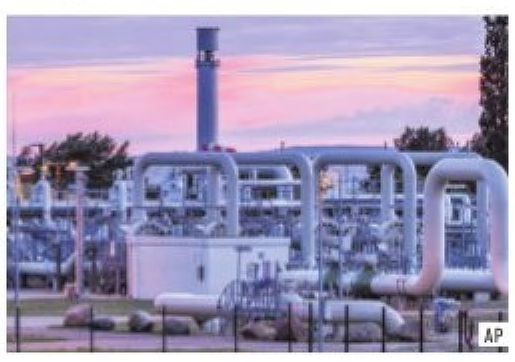
With a protracted stalemate on the Iraq-Turkey pipeline, production outages in Nigeria and Libya, the escalating geopolitical unrest in Africa, and suspected reduced drilling activity at ageing refineries in the US, a global supply crunch is imminent.

Continued sanctions on the Kremlin have taken a toll on the smooth conveyance of oil supplies. The European Union is critical of re-routed Russian finished oil products finding their way into its territory. Interestingly, some members continue to patronise Russian oil at domestic production facilities.

With 65% of its oil imports from Russia, Hungary has sought another one-year extension of an exemption from EU sanctions, thereby allowing Budapest to continue to export products refined from the Russian Urals at MOL Hungarian Oil & Gas-owned Danube refinery. Slovakia's Slovnaft refinery, a subsidiary of MOL, meets 95% of the Central European country's oil requirement from imports of Russian crude. Bulgaria successfully obtained exemption from Brussels for Russian oil imports that land at its sole refinery, Neftochim Burgas, owned by Lukoil, Russia's second-largest oil producer. Under a special understanding the EU allowed Sofia to export diesel products converted from Russian crude to Ukraine!

With Russian Gas out of the ambit of sanctions, Austria continues its high dependence on imports from Gazprom, with no signs of a reduction in supply dependence. Such 'arrangements' seldom provide lasting redemption from 'energy pains'.

High diplomacy and parleys are the way forward to defuse confrontation. Talks at Copenhagen earlier in June were inconclusive. The highly ambitious plans of Ukraine failed to convince European members. A graded increase in sanctions on Russia is something the Western bloc is reluctant to concede. A lot is at play in international diplomacy which will determine the fate of oil prices.



AP

With a protracted stalemate on the Iraq-Turkey pipeline, production outages in Nigeria and Libya ... and suspected reduced drilling activity at ageing refineries in the US, a global supply crunch is imminent

India's neutral deportment to sanctions on Moscow is evident as imports of Russian oil touched new highs in June. With Indian Oil's stakeholding in a subsidiary of Rosneft (Russia's State oil company), the appointment of an Indian director on the board of Rosneft in June this year shall facilitate stable and long-term trade understanding.

India is not unique in forging such corporate ties; the endorsers of sanctions have fostered closer relationships. Former Austrian Chancellor W Schuessel was on the board of Lukoil until last year. Karin Kneissl, Austria's former Minister of Foreign Affairs, critical of the EU, well conversant in Arabic and an expert on the energy market and the Middle East, created quite a flutter when she waltzed with President Vladimir Putin while he attended her wedding in August 2018. She later was a member of the board at Rosneft until 2022. Set to head GORKI (Geopolitical Observatory for Russia's Key Issues, a think tank established as part of St Petersburg State University), she would focus on West Asia studies and energy issues.

Saudi Arabia, keen to debut on the stage of world diplomacy, hosted the recent meet at Jeddah, initiating negotiations in the Russia-Ukraine conflict and brokering peace. This was Ukraine's opportunity to 'galvanise' the Global South. Among the invitees, India plays a strategic role as the third-largest consumer and a fast-developing economy. New Delhi's approach to the conflict has been 'inclusive', advocating dialogue and diplomacy. China remains the single-largest consumer of oil from Russia and Saudi Arabia as of last quarter. Earlier in the year, China facilitated the easing of a seven-year diplomatic impasse between Iran and Saudi Arabia. Beijing's attendance at Jeddah is viewed as a game-changer as Moscow hints at seeking other BRICS members' opinions, invoking optimism.

Saudi has expressed its intentions to continue with production cuts through September as Russia has indicated a reduction in oil exports. Brent crude currently trades at $86, the highest since April. Earlier this year, this column considered $75 to support a rebound surge eventuality. With a predicted all-time high demand, major financial analysts have upped their price estimates despite recessionary fears in China. A prominent multinational investment banking company has pegged it at $93 for mid-2024, which could happen much earlier.

The US Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) is at a 40-year low. A replenishment is not too far in the future; when that happens, the prices are bound to kiss north. The declining North Sea output could exacerbate supply pains.

Wars never benefit anyone except the bullets that find targets. Combined initiatives for bringing peace in the Ukraine war would stabilise the energy market, especially with the green transition unfolding. The weaponisation of oil would be counterproductive. Broader interests need to accord precedence. Only then shall we usher in peace and fuel stability.

"The disunited mind is far from wise;
How can it meditate? How can we be at peace?
When you know no peace, how can you know joy?" —Bhagavad Gita

Modi's reply

Ref: No-trust motion: A lost chance to reassure Manipur people (Aug 11). Even a layman knew the no-trust motion would be defeated by NDA. Modi's reply was a long and one-sided diatribe against Congress, which, unable to digest his caustic barbs, staged a walkout. The people of Manipur have to solve their problems among themselves as no assurance is forthcoming from both NDA and INDIA. Both sides have lost the trust of Manipur as well as Indians at large. Parliament is not used for debates but only mudslinging, with money being wasted.

Parthasarathy Mandadi, Tirupati

Unity missing

In Parliament, the prime minister could have shown statesmanship by agreeing with the opposition and passing a resolution that all parliamentarians are with Manipur. Both Modi and the MPs present should have made an appeal to end the violence.

Piyush Goyal moves motion against AAP MP for naming some parliamentarians without their consent in a proposed select committee for Delhi services bill

RS suspends Raghav Chadha for 'misconduct'

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

AAP MP Raghav Chadha was on Friday suspended from the Rajya Sabha for "gross violation of rules, misconduct, defiant attitude and contemptuous conduct", pending a report by the Privileges Committee.

His suspension came on a motion moved by Leader of the House Piyush Goyal and cleared by the Chairman of Rajya Sabha Jagdeep Dhankhar.

Goyal sought action against Chadha for including names of some members of the Upper House without their consent in a proposed select committee for the Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi (Amendment) Bill, 2023.

The motion was passed by a voice vote in Rajya Sabha on the last day of the monsoon session.

Chadha, in a presser on Thursday, dared the BJP to show him the paper on which he forged the signatures. He also termed the BJP a factory of rumours and lies. On the row over the selection committee, he said, "Imagine that I organised my birthday party and invited 10 people; eight of them came and two didn't accept my invitation, but instead they charged me saying 'how dare you invite us to your birthday party?' This is what happened. I just invited the MPs to be part of the committee. Neither were signatures needed nor were they submitted. If you hear anything to the contrary, it is the BJP's dirty trick department at work".

Later, Dhankar said, "I find it expedient to refer the matter to the Committee of Privileges… suspension order dated July 24 may continue beyond the current session till Council has the benefit of recommendation by the Committee of Privileges."

Earlier, the House also approved the continuation of suspension of senior AAP leader Sanjay Singh, pending the privileges committee report. Goyal informed the chair that Singh entered the well of the House 56 times and disobeyed direction of the Chair.

Goyal also said Chadha compromised the dignity of members and the august position of the House by his misconduct.

POWER CORRIDOR

OVER 2,000 POSITIONS LYING VACANT AT ICMR

Over 2,000 positions, including 142 posts of scientists, are vacant in the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), the apex body of biomedical research in the country, the Lok Sabha was informed on Friday. Apart from the vacant positions of scientists, as many as 1,230 positions for technical staff are yet to be filled. The figure is 799 for administrative staff, said Minister of State for Health and Family Welfare Prof S P Singh Baghel in a written reply. The sanctioned strength of scientists in ICMR is 876, technical staff is 2811, for admin staff is 1,580. The minister explained that some of the posts are promotional and eligible candidates are yet to be found.

CHILD HELPLINE NUMBERS TO BE INTEGRATED

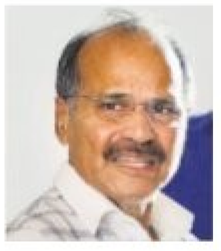
The Centre proposes to integrate child helpline number 1098 with an emergency response support system 112 (ERSS-112), a helpline of the Home Ministry, the Lok Sabha was informed on Friday. The process has already been completed in 11 states. In a written reply, the Women and Child Development Minister Smriti Irani said, "Transition of Child Helpline is done in a phased manner." She said the helpline acts as a crucial link between children in distress and services available for their rehabilitation, restoration, or social reintegration. After the integration, the helpline number will be operated through the local district administration and police.

PMCARES SUPPORTS OVER 4,000 CHILDREN

Over 4,000 children, who lost their parents in the COVID-19 pandemic, are being supported under the PMCARES scheme, Lok Sabha was informed on Friday. Out of the total 4,418 children being supported by the scheme, 836 children are from Maharashtra. It is followed by Uttar Pradesh with 441. The other states are Madhya Pradesh (432), Tamil Nadu (394), Andhra Pradesh (351), Telangana (257), Karnataka (231), and Gujarat (223). According to the Ministry of Women and Child Development, 2,305 children are living in childcare institutions, with maximum number in Tamil Nadu(221)followed by Karnataka.

I.N.D.I.A boycotts Lok Sabha over Adhir suspension

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi



ALLEGING that the timing of the suspension of Congress leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury from Lok Sabha is deliberate, the Opposition alliance I.N.D.I.A boycotted Lok Sabha proceedings on the last day of the monsoon session of Parliament on Friday.

The members, led by Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, also held a protest march to the statue of B R Ambedkar in the Parliament complex.

Chowdhury was suspended from Lok Sabha on Thursday for 'repeated misconduct' pending an investigation by the Privileges Committee. The case was referred to the committee by Union Parliamentary Affairs Minister Prahlad Joshi.

The Congress on Friday said it will intensify protest to revoke Chowdhury's suspension, as he is the chairman of the Public Accounts Committee (PAC), and with the suspension, he would not be able to participate in PAC meetings on CAG (Comptroller and Auditor General of India) reports.

Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge raised the issue in Rajya Sabha on Friday as well. "Chowdhury has been suspended on a flimsy ground. I am pleading with the Chairman of the House that you have to protect democracy as Chowdhury is in the Public Accounts Committee, Business Advisory Committee, and the CBC selection. He has been deprived of all these institutions and if he is suspended, it is not good," Kharge said.

Speaking to the media, Kharge said that the timing of Chowdhury's suspension was deliberate as he is the chairman of the Public Accounts Committee. "It is well-planned, so that he cannot be reinstated on the last day of the session. His suspension would mean that he would not be able to participate in PAC meetings on CAG reports, which expose the government's irregularities. He cannot participate in the Business Advisory Committee meetings," said the Congress chief, adding that the Constitution was being shredded to pieces as the BJP government did not want to run Parliament according to it.

Kharge said that all rules and regulations were being set aside and the government was trying to threaten and intimidate every opposition MP and even suspend them. He pointed out that another senior member of the Rajya Sabha, Rajani Patil, was suspended in the same manner last time.

Day after no-trust vote, Rahul tears into govt stand on Manipur violence

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

A DAY after Prime Minister Modi's reply to the no-confidence motion in Parliament, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Friday said that the PM was laughing and joking while Manipur was still burning.

At a media interaction in Delhi, Gandhi said that though the Army is capable of stopping the violence in Manipur in two days, the PM wants the state to burn.

"I watched the PM of India yesterday, speaking for two hours, laughing, joking and sloganeering in Parliament. The PM would say one line and the entire BJP would shout the slogan. The PM seems to have forgotten that Manipur is on fire. It has been on fire for four months," Gandhi said, adding that the state has to be rebuilt quickly.

Manipur has been decimated and it does not exist anymore, he said. "People are being murdered, women are being raped and the PM sitting in the middle of Parliament is laughing," the Congress leader said.

Referring to Modi's barbs at Congress and Opposition parties during the debate, Gandhi said, "This is not about Rahul Gandhi. This is not about the Congress Party. This is not about the Opposition parties. This is about India."

The Wayanad MP said it was unbecoming of the PM to speak the way he did. "The PM ceases to be a politician after he becomes the representative of the voice of this country. He shouldn't speak like a petty politician. I have seen prime ministers from the Congress. The BJP has seen Atal Bihari Vajpayee and Deve Gowda. None of them have ever done this," said Gandhi.

Referring to his statement in Parliament that Bharat Mata has been murdered in Manipur, Gandhi said that he was talking from experience. "When we went to the Meitei area, we were told that if we have any Kuki with us in our security team, we should not bring him along because he would be killed. The same happened in Kuki areas too," he said, adding that the word 'Bharat Mata' has been expunged from Parliament proceedings for the first time.

SC seeks details of 183 encounters from UP govt

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday directed the Uttar Pradesh government to submit an affidavit detailing the trial and investigation statuses related to the 183 encounters that have occurred in the state since 2017.

The court, hearing pleas seeking constitution of a commission chaired by a retired SC judge to inquire into the police custody deaths of gangster Atiq Ahmed and his brother Ashraf on April 15, 2023, said the scope of the matter extended beyond the case. Expressing concerns over the growing instances of police encounters and custodial deaths, not only in Uttar Pradesh but also in other states, a bench led by Justice SR Bhat emphasized the necessity of establishing a functional mechanism to monitor the progress of investigations.

"We require information about the accused, trial stage, and adherence to NHRC guidelines. Why these incidents occur within prison walls is a question. There appears to be a connection. We must sever this link. What is the investigation status? What charges are being pursued? This trend extends beyond one state. Clarify NHRC guidelines. Describe the state's position and its application in other trials," asked Justice Bhat.

"We have commissions and Special Investigation Teams (SIT). PUCL guidelines are also at our disposal. Numerous cases have risen. Is there an established procedure? How is the prosecution progressing? We want this as a reference point. Similar incidents have occurred in other states. How have they been dealt with?" he asked.

Justice Aravind Kumar, also a part of the bench, asked, "How was the information obtained? This is crucial. Can a group of 5-10 guards be easily overpowered for a shooting? Is this plausible? There is likely complicity. It is not solely the leader's fault."

Senior Advocate Mukul Rohatgi, representing the UP government, apprised the court about the formation of SITs and inquiry commissions, highlighting the state's prompt response.

Senior Advocate Siddhartha Dave, representing Atiq's sister, said, "Two commissions were established, one led by Justice Bhonsale and the other by Rajiv Lochan. These separate inquiry commissions might yield varying conclusions. Uttar Pradesh might need to clarify its alignment with NHRC guidelines."

Plea against name INDIA dismissed

The Supreme Court on Friday binned a plea that sought to restrain opposition parties from using the word 'INDIA' (Indian National Developmental Inclusive Alliance) as the name of their alliance. Emphasising that the plea was filed to seek publicity, Justice SK Kaul, the presiding judge of the bench said, "Who are you? What's the interest? If there's a violation of election norms, go to the Election Commission. You want publicity, complete publicity! We are not going to determine morality in politics." The plea, quoting Emblems and Names (Prevention of Improper Use) Act of 1950, said that the registration of the name INDIA was prohibited.

Collegium refers names of 23 HC judges for transfer

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court collegium, via resolutions uploaded late night on Thursday, has recommended the transfer of 23 high court judges. The list includes Gujarat HC judge Justice M Prachchhak, who had refused to stay Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's conviction. The collegium has recommended his transfer to Patna HC for "better administration of justice."

Citing the same reasons, the collegium has also recommended the transfer of eight judges from the high courts of Gujarat and Punjab & Haryana.

Although the resolution to transfer them has been uploaded on August 10, their names were recommended on August 3, 2023. This perhaps is not only the highest number of transfers that have been recommended by the SC collegium in one go but also the highest number of refusals to accede to the requests that have been put forth by various judges.

UK pledges funds to curb Khalistani extremism

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

BRITAIN has announced new funding of £95,000 (around Rs 1 crore) to tackle pro-Khalistani extremism that has threatened to damage Indian missions and its employees in the United Kingdom.

UK's Security Minister Tom Tugendhat, who is in India to bolster cooperation on security initiatives, said, "A deeper partnership between our nations means we can more effectively tackle the security threats we both face. I am committed to working together to enhance our understanding of and capabilities against extremism – whatever form it takes," Tugendhat said on Friday. He met External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar on Thursday.

The latest funding will enhance the British government's understanding of the threat posed by pro-Khalistani extremism, complementing the joint work already underway between the UK and India through the Joint Extremism Task Force, Tugendhat said after meeting Jaishankar.

The Indian High Commission in London was vandalised by pro-Khalistani supporters earlier this year, prompting India's strong reaction.

"We discussed how India and the UK could make their partnership more contemporary and productive. The current global scenario offers many opportunities to develop our ties," said Jaishankar after meeting the British minister.

"The living bridge between India and the UK reflects our deep and enduring friendship. As the world's oldest and largest democracies, we have many shared opportunities to make the world a safer and more prosperous place," Tugendhat said.

"Corruption also harms our prosperity, damages our society and threatens our national security. I am delighted to be attending the G20 anti-corruption ministerial meeting in Kolkata (August 12), presided over by India, to continue strengthening global resilience and cracking down on its corrosive influence," said the UK Minister.

Minister Tugendhat also visited the Central Bureau of Investigation office to discuss joint challenges posed by child sexual exploitation and abuse, and fraud and also met the Indian National Security Advisor Ajit Doval.

The UK Government recently launched a Fraud Strategy, which includes a new National Fraud Squad who will work with local forces, international partners – including the CBI – and the UK intelligence community to ensure that fraud cells are shut down.

India tries to calm Chinese nerves on G20 slogan 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam'

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

AMID reports that suggested China's objection to the phrase 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' as it was in Sanskrit (which is not an official language of the UN), India on Friday said that it's a mere translation of the phrase into one earth, one family & one future – the theme for G20 under India's presidency.

"The phrase is based on the ethos of our civilisation which has received widespread support and permeates many initiatives that India has brought to the G20 agenda. This also finds a mention in the G20 logo which has the verse in Sanskrit and English," said Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Arindam Bagchi on Friday.

India's reaction was based on a report that showed that the Chinese were not in sync with accepting this phrase as it was in Sanskrit, arguing that the language was not recognised by the United Nations which has Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish as its official languages.

In the outcome document after G20 Energy Transitions Working Group meeting in Goa on July 20, China apparently showed its resistance to include the Sanskrit phrase.

However, sources point out that China was the only exception as the other members saw nothing wrong with it.

Several members said that India as the chair of the G20 had the right to take a call on such matters.

However, even though the objections were raised orally, the Sanskrit phrase has been retained in the logo and letterhead of each document but the final document only had the English version.

'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' is inspired from the Maha Upanishad. The theme fundamentally highlights the importance of all life — human, animal, plant, and microorganism — as well as their interdependence on earth and across the universe.

The phrase is based on the ethos of our civilisation which has received widespread support and permeates many initiatives that India has brought to the G20 agenda

SP won't win a single seat in '24 polls from UP: Yogi

UP CM asserts BJP will win 2027 and 2032 Assembly elections

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

> Those who are born with a silver spoon will never understand the problems of farmers, poor, dalits and backwards. Efforts made by them are centered only on themselves
>
> Yogi Adityanath, UP CM

INVOKING poets and authors including Dushyant Kumar, Mahakavi Tulsidas and Ram Kumar Verma, UP CM Yogi Adityanath on Friday took potshots at Leader of Opposition Akhilesh Yadav in the Assembly on the concluding day of the monsoon session.

He said that the Lok Sabha debate of Thursday had decided NDA victory in 2024 elections and the BJP government would come back to power in UP in 2027 as well as 2032 Assembly elections. "Our government will repeat, not just in 2024 at the Centre, but also in 2027 and 2032 in UP."

"It appears that the mandate given by the people in 2014, 2017, 2019 and 2022 was not just like that. In 2024 also, they will not be able to open the account and the double-engine government will be repeated," he said. The CM, in a lighter vein, advised SP leader and Akhilesh Yadav's uncle Shivpal to decide his future course of action in time instead of repenting later.

Reading out couplet of Dushyant Kumar to substantiate his claim, he said: "Tumhare paanv ke neeche koi zamin nahi, aur kamal yeh hai ki tumhe yakin nahi (You are totally uprooted but you are not ready to accept this truth)."

Yogi said that Akhilesh could never feel the pain of deprived, downtrodden and farmer community as he had not been in those shoes ever. "Those who are born with a silver spoon will never understand the problems of farmers, poor, dalits and backwards, instead the efforts made by them for their own self is known to the entire state and the country," the CM said highlighting his government's welfare of farmers since 2017.

The SP chief questioned the Yogi government over farmers, youth, price rise and unemployment during his speech in the House. Taking a jibe at Akhilesh, Yogi said that in his one-hour-long speech the SP president only mentioned water logging issues in Gorakhpur.

Gorakhpur has been Yogi's bastion and he is an MLA from Gorakhpur Sadar constituency. Stressing that rainfall in the state had not been proper and the situation has not been favourable for the farmers this year, the CM said half of the state was facing the drought due to scanty rainfall while in western UP, the farmer was facing the flood fury.

"Many crops have been damaged as a result of flooding in Himalayan rivers. Assessment of damage is going on. We are committed to giving maximum facilities to farmers and compensation to those affected by the adverse weather conditions. The officials and ministers are visiting the affected areas," he said.

EC tweaks names of 19 Assembly, one LS seats

Final order for Assam delimitation of constituencies published

THE Election Commission published the final order for delimitation of constituencies for Assam on Friday, tweaking the names of 19 Assembly and one parliamentary constituencies.

The constituencies were delimited based on the 2001 Census. The number of Assembly and Parliamentary constituencies remained the same – 126 and 14 respectively.

One parliamentary and six Assembly constituencies got paired names following delimitation.

The constituencies whose names have been revised are Mankachar (now Birsing-Jarua), South Salmara (Mankachar), Manikpur (Srijangram), Bhowanipur (Bhowanipur-Sorbhog), Rupshi (Pakabetbari), Boko (Boko-Chaygaon), Hajo (Hajo-Sualkuchi), Gobardhana (Manas), Batadraba (Dhing), Nagaon (Nagaon-Batadraba), Sootea (Nadaur), Chabua (Chabua-Lahowal), Moran (Khowang), Dima Hasao (Haflong), Algapur (Algapur-Katlicherra), Badarpur (Karimganj North), North Karimganj (Karimganj South), South Karimganj (Patharkandi) and Ratabari (Ram Krishna Nagar).

The Kaliabor Parliamentary seat, currently represented by Congress' Gaurav Gogoi, has been renamed as Kaziranga.

Altogether, 19 Assembly constituencies and two Parliamentary constituencies have been reserved for Scheduled Tribes (ST). The ST Assembly seats increased from 16 to 19.

Similarly, the number of Scheduled Caste (SC) seats increased from eight to nine.

In a statement, the EC said the reservation of constituencies for SC and ST communities was done on the basis of the provisions laid down in Article 330 and 332 of the Constitution.

Earlier, the Commission, comprising Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar and Election Commissioners Anup Chandra Pandey and Arun Goel, held public hearings in Guwahati to provide an opportunity to the people, public representatives, political leaders and other stakeholders to express their views.

The public hearings were part of the consultative exercise by the Commission during the process of delimitation. All those who filed suggestions and objections in response to the public notice were specifically heard.

Every Range gets dedicated cyber thana

A dedicated cyber police station was virtually inaugurated by CM Bhupesh Baghel for each division/range level of Chhattisgarh to confront the rising challenge owing of cyber frauds/crimes. The new cyber thanas have begun functioning at Raipur, Bilaspur, Durg, Bastar and Surguja. The Standard Operating Procedures have been released for these cyber police stations that will take up the cases in which huge loss of money via online digital fraud have been reported, Raipur SSP Prashant Agrawal said. FIRs here will be registered for probe only at the recommendation of the superintendent of police or IG.

Over 1,700 college students score 'zero'

Professors and academics of Raipur-based Pt Ravishankar University and affiliated colleges were left astounded when they found out over 1,700 students failed as they scored 'zero' in at least one subject. These students had written absurd and ridiculous replies in their answer sheets. Interestingly, they are the same students who passed the online examinations with flying colours consecutively for two years appearing from home during the Covid-19 pandemic. Now, after appearing in offline tests after three years, over 1,700 out of 1.25 lakh students got '0'.

The move conveys a message for every major industry to move towards a greener sustainable future.

NDA will be wiped out in '24 polls, says Nitish

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

BIHAR CM Nitish Kumar on Friday assailed Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his statement in the Parliament, describing Opposition bloc INDIA as 'Ghamandia' (arrogant) and said that the BJP was nervous over Opposition parties coming together against it ahead of Lok Sabha election.

Nitish, who has played significant role in bringing all non-BJP parties together, claimed that the BJP would be wiped out from Bihar in 2024 Lok Sabha elections. That's why they (BJP) are upset and their nervousness is evident. "They have problem when we unite," he added.

He said the Opposition bloc 'INDIA' had been formed in the interest of the country as well as the state, adding that all issues including seat sharing arrangement would be decided at the Mumbai meeting of Opposition parties scheduled on August 31 and September 1.

While targeting the BJP and the PM, the Bihar Chief Minister alleged that the party was indulging in propaganda work, doing no real work for the welfare of the people.

Maha unease: Shinde, Ajit agree to disagree on guardian ministers

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

A cold war has surfaced between Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde and his deputy Ajit Pawar over the appointments of guardian ministers.

A guardian minister refers to a designated MLA (member of the legislative assembly) in a state government who is assigned the responsibility for overseeing the development of a particular district. The guardian minister is also the ex-officio chairperson of the District Planning Committee (DPC), which is responsible for addressing issues of common interest between local government bodies and municipalities.

State Congress chief Nana Patole said Ajit was eyeing the chair of his boss Shinde. "The deputies — Ajit Pawar and Devendra Fadnavis — are working as super chief ministers, confusing the bureaucrats. The chaos in the present government can explode any day," said Patole.

Patole said in the BJP-led government, 15 districts are yet to get guardian ministers. One minister is the guardian minister for six districts.

CM Shinde recently issued a notification asking newly inducted NCP ministers to do the flag hoisting on August 15 at district collectorates. However, the Ajit Pawar faction expressed displeasure because they expected their appointment as guardian ministers of their own districts who would conduct flag hoisting in their districts.

Interim bail to Nawab Malik in laundering case

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

SUPREME Court granted two-month medical bail to former Maharashtra cabinet minister and NCP MLA Nawab Malik in money laundering case. The interim order was passed by a division bench of Justice Aniruddha Bose and Justice Bela M Trivedi.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta appeared for Nawab, who was behind the bars since February 2022. The Enforcement Directorate arrested Nawab Malik on February 23 last year in connection with a money laundering case linked to fugitive underworld don Dawood Ibrahim and his aides.

Both the factions of the NCP celebrated the release of Nawab Malik by bursting crackers distributing sweets at their respective party offices in Mumbai.

NCP leader and Lok Sabha MP Supriya Sule welcomed the Supreme Court order and called it a good order. She said Malik is not guilty but he was framed and arrested due to political reasons but he will come out unscathed. "We have faith in judiciary and he will be free soon," Sule added.

Rift in BJP's Kashmir unit sharpens as Valley leaders feel ignored

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

> 'Creating divisions'
>
> One of the disgruntled BJP members said the little-known party leaders from Jammu are visiting the Valley and trying to 'hijack the Kashmir affairs', creating divisions in the party.

THE BJP is facing internal wrangling in Kashmir unit as about 300 party leaders and senior workers, who are among the founding members of the saffron party in militancy-hit Valley, have alleged that they are being ignored and there is an undue interference from outside, in the party matters in Kashmir. It has forced the party's central leadership to step in to diffuse the tension.

Sources said that about 300 BJP leaders and senior workers are not happy with the way affairs of the party in Kashmir are being run and handled.

These workers and leaders, who are among the founding members of BJP in the Valley and faced militant threats, feel that they are being ignored and left out in the decision making in the Valley unit, they said.

One of the disgruntled BJP members said the little-known party leaders from Jammu are visiting the Valley and trying to 'hijack the Kashmir affairs'.

"We have been complaining that these leaders, who are not visible in their own constituencies, are unnecessarily creating lobbyism and factionalism in the party's Kashmir chapter. It is not that we are against the party leaders. We want the party to send the top leaders from Jammu to the Valley but not the ones who don't even have their own constituencies and are creating divisions in the party," he said.

The disgruntled BJP leaders and workers have apprised J&K party chief Ravindra Raina and central leadership about their grievances and issues.

In order to diffuse the tension, J&K BJP chief Ravindra Raina visited Kashmir on August 9 and held a marathon three-hour-long meeting with the group of disgruntled leaders in a Srinagar hotel.

Ragging suspected: TMC, BJP spar over death of Jadavpur univ student

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

> Spoke to his mother
>
> Swapnodeep, a resident of Bagula in Nadia who took admission at the university on August 3, on Wednesday night was found lying naked on the ground in front of the building that houses his hostel room on the second floor. He was rushed to a private hospital where he died of his injuries. His mother had got a call from him, asking for help. He requested to take him back home.

THE mysterious death of a first-year student of Jadavpur University triggered a political slugfest between the ruling TMC and principal opposition BJP on Friday as both held each other responsible for the tragedy.

While Bengal BJP chief Sukanta Majumdar alleged that the state government has failed to curb ragging in the campuses, education minister Bratya Basu retaliated, saying that the university functions under the direct control of Governor C V Ananda Bose.

"JU incident proves that the West Bengal government has failed to establish true governance in education sector … @MamataOfficial has failed to eradicate a heinous crime like ragging… Shame on WB government… My deepest condolences with the family of Swapnodeep Kundu," Majumdar tweeted.

Basu, on the other hand, said, "BJP is now finding faults with the state government in every unfortunate occurrence in the state. As I am tweeting this and if a leaf falls from a tree, it will be the lacuna of state government according to them! The BJP state president, in his hurry to blame us, has forgotten that the Jadavpur University is under the direct control of the Governor! So, it is his failure and in turn the failure of his political masters in controlling this deplorable incident!"

During the tenure of previous governor Jagdeep Dhankhar, the Bengal Assembly had passed a Bill replacing the governor by the chief minister as the chancellor of all state-run universities but the move could not be implemented as an Act as the Raj Bhavan is yet to give its assent.

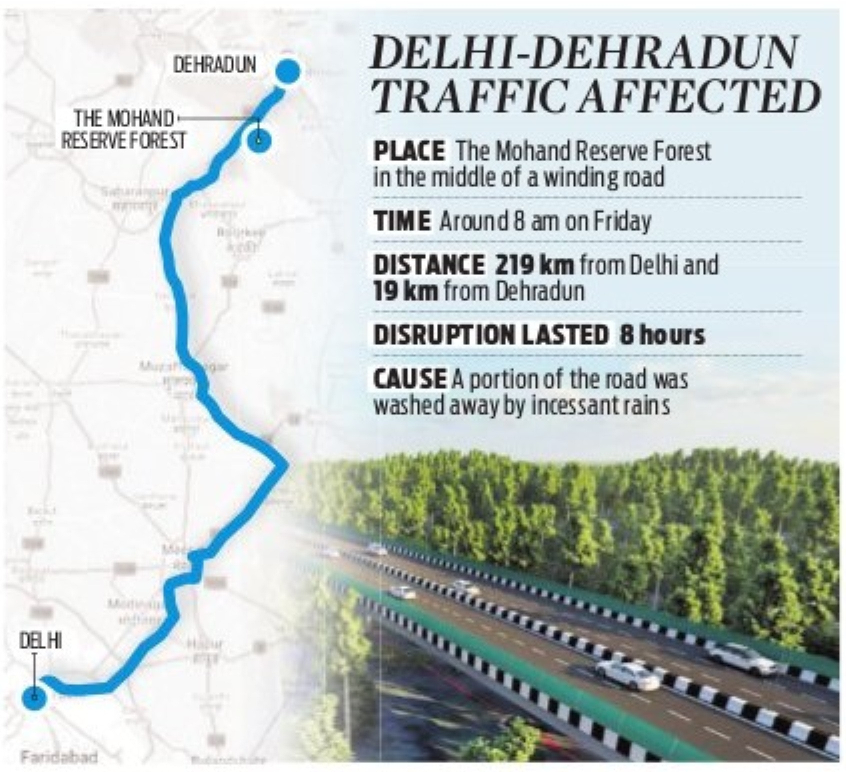
Swapnodeep, a resident of Bagula in Nadia who took admission at the university on August 3, on Wednesday night was found lying naked on the ground in front of the building that houses his hostel room on the second floor. He was rushed to a private hospital, where he died of his injuries.

Swapnodeep's mother said that she had received a call after her son attended the first classes on Wednesday expressing his excitement. "But he made another call to his mother on Thursday and expressed his fear. He requested to take him back home," said Swapnodeep's uncle Arup Kundu.

Shortly after Swapnodeep's parents lodged a complaint with the police alleging that he was a victim of ragging in the hostel, the university authorities swung into action on Friday. First-year students were segregated from senior students in a separate building.

HC sets time limit for mules for Char Dham yatra

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun



DELHI-DEHRADUN TRAFFIC AFFECTED

PLACE The Mohand Reserve Forest in the middle of a winding road

TIME Around 8 am on Friday

DISTANCE 219 km from Delhi and 19 km from Dehradun

DISRUPTION LASTED 8 hours

CAUSE A portion of the road was washed away by incessant rains

THE Nainital High Court has ordered a daily time limit for the movement of horses and mules during the Char Dham Yatra. Along with this, horse operators have also been banned from deploying the animals at night.

The matter came up for hearing on Thursday before a division bench comprising Chief Justice Vipin Sanghi and Justice Rakesh Thapliyal. Social activists Gauri Maulekhi and Ajay Gautam had filed a PIL stating that 600 horses have died in the Char Dham Yatra so far. This poses a risk of spreading diseases.

After the agreement between the petitioner and the government in the High Court, it has been decided that horses and mules will no longer be used at night in the Char Dham Yatra; they will be loaded as per their capacity. Horses and mules will be circumambulated only once a day along the yatra route, said the court.

The petitioners also told the court that congestion along the Char Dham Yatra is continuously increasing, causing problems of food and shelter for animals and humans. Petitioner Gauri Maulekhi demanded from the court that devotees, horses and mules should be allowed to go ahead in the yatra as per their carrying capacity.

Meanwhile, heavy rains, landslides and water-logging continued to block roads. The Chief Minister conducted an aerial survey of the state on Friday to take stock of the situation.

Traffic on the Delhi-Dehradun highway was disrupted for nearly eight hours after a portion of the road collapsed near Mohand. Meanwhile, the State Meteorological Department has issued a red alert of heavy rains for Tehri and Pauri, including the capital Dehradun. Issuing an orange alert for the remaining districts, the meteorological centre has cautioned tourists and pilgrims coming towards Uttarakhand to remain alert.

In Rudraprayag, the State Disaster Response Force recovered the bodies of five people who were buried alive after heavy landslides and debris from a hill in Tarsali area of Rudraprayag district. The Meteorological Department has issued a new red alert of heavy rains in most districts of Uttarakhand till August 14.

State Disaster Response Force Commandant Manikant Mishra said a landslide occurred in Tarsali area under Rudraprayag district on Thursday night, in which the vehicle was feared buried. Since Friday morning, the SDRF team was continuously engaged in the search operation. The rescue operation had to be halted due to torrential rains and stone-falling from the hills.

Due to the rise in the water level of the Ganga, Laxman Jhula, Swargashram, Ganga ghats and banks in Tapovan area were submerged.

SC spikes law, hurts Sharif's prospects of a political comeback

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S Supreme Court on Friday struck down a recently enacted law modifying the review process of its judgments, a major ruling that will diminish the chances of ex-PM Nawaz Sharif's bid to challenge his lifetime disqualification from holding any public office.

A three-member bench of the apex court led by Chief Justice Umar Ata Bandial and comprising Justice Ijazul Ahsan and Justice Munib Akhtar unanimously ruled that the Supreme Court (Review of Judgments and Orders) Act 2023 was "unconstitutional."

The 87-page order said: "Parliament cannot legislate regarding any matter relating to jurisdiction and powers of the Supreme Court." Moreover, the bench in its order contended that "any legislation ... under the garb of enlargement of [the] jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, is indisputably an intrusion in the independence of the judiciary." Any attempt by way of ordinary legislation to interfere in the scope of the court's powers and jurisdiction, including its review jurisdiction, would constitute a wrong reading and interpretation of Constitution, order states.

Nawaz Sharif

The Supreme Court in its detailed verdict stated that the law was 'repugnant to and ultra vires the Constitution' while being beyond the legislative competence of Parliament. "It is accordingly struck down as null and void and of no legal effect."

It was said that Nawaz Sharif could be a beneficiary as he was disqualified by the Supreme Court in 2017. He was disqualified by the apex court but he couldn't file an appeal as there was no law to challenge the judgment of the SC. In 2018, he became ineligible to hold public office for life after a SC verdict.

Reacting to the apex court striking down the law, former law minister Azam Nazeer Tarar told Geo News that the verdict was unfortunate. "It is not a good tradition if courts will repeatedly interfere in Parliament's workings and give verdicts that impair its independence," he said. PTI

Pak people can import vital meds from India: Drug regulatory body

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S drugs regulatory watchdog has said that hospitals and common citizens can import vital medicines, including anti-cancer drugs and vaccines, from India for their use, a media report said on Friday.

The Drug Regulatory Authority of Pakistan (DRAP) said on Thursday that there was no restriction on hospitals or the common man on importing vital medicines (anti-cancer drugs and vaccines) from India for their own use under the Import Policy Order 2022 after obtaining no objection certificate (NOC) from the authority, The News International reported.

The statement of the DRAP officials came during a session of the Senate Standing Committee on Health when Senator Professor Mehr Taj Roghani raised the issue of the unavailability of several essential medicines in the country amid economic crisis. "In view of (the) unavailability of some essential medicines in Pakistan, common people and hospitals can apply for a NOC to directly import medicines from India. Currently, there is no ban on (the) import of any drug from India under the Import Policy Order 2022," DRAP officials told the forum.

During the session, Senator Roghani said that doctors from Sindh and other provinces had sent her a long list of medicines, including Heparin and other drugs used to treat neurological and psychiatric illnesses, vaccines and other biological products unavailable in Pakistan.

DRAP officials responded that the authority had launched a countrywide survey of unavailable medicines and asked their field force countrywide to report all the essential medicines not available at the healthcare facilities.

In its written response to the Senate Standing Committee on Health, the drugs regulatory watchdog said it was working on publishing the list of unavailable medicines with contact details on its official website, which would be updated periodically based on real-time market surveillance. PTI

Name sought for caretaker PM

Pakistan's President Arif Alvi on Friday asked outgoing PM Shehbaz Sharif and outgoing leader of the opposition Raja Riaz to propose a name for the appointment of caretaker PM by Saturday. In a letter written to Sharif and Riaz, the president recalled that he had dissolved the Assembly on the PM's advice on August 9. Alvi then directed Sharif and Riaz to propose the name of the interim premier "not later than August 12."

Every govt needs army: Pak PM

Pakistan's outgoing PM Shehbaz Sharif has admitted that even his government could not run without the support from military. "Mr (Imran) Khan also received military support during his tenure. His government was a blend of various components, despite his accusations against others for the same. Every government requires backing from key sectors, including the military," Sharif said in an interview with Geo News on Thursday.

African bloc to send troops in Niger

NIAMEY: Tensions are escalating between Niger's new military regime and the West African regional bloc that has ordered the deployment of troops to restore Niger's flailing democracy. The ECOWAS bloc said on Thursday it had directed a "standby force" to restore constitutional order in Niger after its Sunday deadline to reinstate ousted President Mohamed Bazoum expired. Hours earlier, two Western officials told AP that Niger's junta had told a top US diplomat they would kill Bazoum if neighbouring nations attempted any military intervention. It's unclear when or where the force will deploy and which countries from the 15-member bloc would contribute to it. Conflict experts say it would likely comprise some 5,000 troops led by Nigeria and could be ready within weeks.

IIP growth slows to 3.7% in June

Fall in growth is mainly on account of dip in manufacturing, which has a weight of 77.6% in IIP

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN a setback to the euphoria around the economy, the country's industrial production declined to a three-month low of 3.7% in June 2023, compared to 5.3% in the month of May, according to official data released on Friday.

In June 2022, the industrial production measured by the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) had recorded a growth of 12.6%.

The fall in growth is mainly on account of a massive dip in growth of manufacturing sector, which has a weight of 77.6% in IIP. The manufacturing sector grew by 3.1% in June 2023, a significant decline from the 12.9% growth in the same month of the previous year, while in May it grew at 5.8%.

Mining sector experienced a growth of 7.6% in June 2023, slightly lower than 7.8% growth observed a year earlier but higher than May growth of 6.4%. Electricity sector saw a growth of 4.2% in June 2023, compared to 0.9% growth in May. For the April-June period of the financial year 2023-24, the IIP growth stood at 4.5%, down from 12.9% during the corresponding period last year. According to most analysts the June IIP growth is lower than their estimate.

Dharmakirti Joshi, Chief Economist with CRISIL Ltd, said, "This was lower than market expectations and in contrast with the S&P Purchase Managers Index, which had printed a very positive 57.8 in June."

According to him, going forward, two factors can swing the industrial performance — slowdown in the advanced economies, and inadequate monsoon in India.

"Though the major Western economies have remained resilient in the first half of this year, S&P Global expects a shallower, but more protracted, slowdown as interest rates stay elevated for longer."

Industrial output growth at 4.5% in April-June

For the April-June period of the financial year 2023-24, the Index of Industrial Production growth stood at 4.5%, down from 12.9% during the corresponding period last year. According to most analysts, the June IIP growth is lower than their estimate

HDFC Bank home loan biz to benefit from low cost of funds

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

AFTER the $40 billion merger, HDFC Bank's home loan business will get a boost from the low cost of funds, said Atanu Chakraborty, Chairman of the largest private bank.

Addressing the shareholders at the annual general meeting, he said that the merger would enable the bank to offer to its wider customer base a full suite of financial products.

"As a consequence of the merger, the bank is poised to benefit from the addition of a market leading home loan product, which can now be directly offered through the Bank's large network of branches, helping a greater number of people fulfil their aspirations to be home owners," he said. "The home loan business will also benefit from the low cost of funds that a bank traditionally enjoys," he added.

Merger of the HDFC twins had come into effect from July 1, creating a financial services giant with a balance sheet of Rs18 lakh crore. The merger has given HDFC Bank entry into the country's growing home loan market.

The Chairman said that the merger will boost fund flow to the affordable housing segment.

"As a consequence of this merger, the larger balance sheet of the bank would offer to the national economy possibilities of higher credit growth, a larger bouquet of financial products and higher flows into affordable housing, agriculture, MSME etc," Chakraborty said while addressing the bank's annual general meeting in Mumbai.

The Bank will continue to invest in technology and be at the forefront of digital revolution that India is currently witnessing.

He said HDFC Bank is well-placed to capitalise on this opportunity, both for financing private investments and consumer finance, aided by its low cost of funds, wide customer reach and a large and stable balance sheet.

"We feel privileged to be a part of this burgeoning economic environment and India's growth story," Chakraborty said. He added that the Bank is committed to supporting small and marginal farmers and taking its products to more villages, thus expanding coverage in rural India. Last year the bank reached customers in about 1.65 lakh villages, and it plans to significantly enhance its footprint in the coming years.

'Need global effort to restructure debt of poor nations'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

UNION Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday, (August 11) called for concerted global efforts led by rich nations to help indebted countries deleverage at a time when multilaterism is the most potent challenge.

Addressing online a G20 session, organised by the Finance Ministry and the Reserve Bank here, ahead of the grouping's summit next month in New Delhi, Ms. Sitharaman said multilaterism faces the biggest challenge in recent years. "We haven't seen such enormous challenges in recent years at all". The Finance Minister said India had ensured that so far the geopolitical differences do not supersede international cooperation which is the core mandate of the G20 grouping and the summit.

The Indian presidency of the G20 has placed great importance on the management of global debt vulnerabilities that many nations are facing today. It's time the international community collaborate and find stronger ways to coordinate in debt restructuring efforts for low-income and vulnerable middle-income countries facing debt stress and vulnerabilities, the Minister said, noting that multilateral lenders are facing many a challenge in arriving at such solutions.

Speaking at the same event, Reserve Bank Governor Shaktikanta Das pitched for the expeditious completion of the 16th general review of the quotas at the International Monetary Fund (IMF), pointing out that the same can help the multilateral lender assist distressed countries in a better way. He said the funding conditions of the IMF are such that they make the country that needs the money urgently look elsewhere because those conditions come with lots of riders and attendant stigmas.

Q2 GDP GROWS LESS THAN FORECAST

The economy of Singapore grew less than initially estimated in the second quarter, official data showed on Friday. However the country, which was not expecting a technical recession this year, avoided recession. The city-state's gross domestic product (GDP) grew a seasonally-adjusted 0.1% quarter-on-quarter in April-June period, which is slower than 0.3% growth seen in the government's advance estimate. The economy expanded 0.5% on an annual basis, compared with the advance estimate of 0.7%, the Ministry of Trade and Industry said. The country's GDP growth was 0.4% in the first quarter. According to the ministry, the country's external demand outlook for the rest of the year remains weak and that it has narrowed its GDP growth forecast to 0.5%-1.5% from 0.5%-2.5% for this year, down from 3.6% in 2022.

JAPAN

WHOLESALE INFLATION EASES FOR 7TH MONTH IN JULY

Japan's wholesale inflation eased for a seventh straight month year-on-year in July due to softer energy utility costs, the country's central bank data showed on Thursday. The corporate goods price index (CGPI), which measures the price companies charge each other for their goods and services, rose 3.6% in July as compared with 4.3% annual increase in June. Wholesale inflation peaked 10.6% in December. The Bank of Japan had earlier forecast that the consumer inflation will ease in coming months as global commodity prices slide from last year's peak levels. Yen-based import prices fell for fourth month to 14.1%, easing concerns about elevated import bills for companies reliant on raw material imports.

PHILIPPINES

RISING RICE PRICES FUEL FOOD INFLATION CONCERNS

Rise in prices of rice fuel food inflation in the Philippines, government data showed on Friday. The steady rise in prices of staple food pushed local rice inflation to 4.2% in July, the fastest pace since 2019. It indicates growing pressure on the major importer of the grain to rapidly increase its stockpile. The Philippines is bracing for the impact on harvests of dry weather brought by the El Niño phenomenon. As prices in key exporting countries jumped on strong demand and India's move to curb exports, the United Nations food agency's rice price index rose 2.8% in July from the month before to their highest in nearly 12 years. As per the country's Department of Agriculture data, both imported and locally-produced "special" rice variety was being sold in the wet markets at as high as 65 pesos ($1.16) per kg as of Thursday.

Net direct tax mop-up grows 17% to ₹5.84L cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE government's net direct tax collections increased 17.33% to ₹5.84 lakh crore so far this fiscal, reaching 32% of the full-year budget estimates (BE).

The Income Tax department in a statement said the collections from the direct taxes, which include personal income tax and corporate tax, up to August 10, 2023, continue to register "steady growth".

On a gross basis, direct tax collection increased 15.73% to ₹6.53 lakh crore till August 10 in the current fiscal. ₹69,000 crore worth of refunds have been issued so far, 3.73% higher than last year.

Net direct tax collection, after adjusting refunds, stands at ₹5.84 lakh crore, which is 17.33% higher than the net collections for the corresponding period of last year, it said.

The government's net collection is 32.03% of the total budget estimates of direct taxes for the current fiscal of ₹18.23 lakh crore.

The 2023-24 budget has pegged the government's direct tax collection at a little over ₹18.23 lakh crore, a 9.75% higher than ₹16.61 lakh crore mopped up last fiscal.

AI adoption by organizations gone up by 2.5 times in India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE number of organizations adopting AI technology in India has increased by 2.5 times since 2017, said minister of state electronic and Information Technology Rajeev Chandrasekhar in parliament.

In a written reply to the Rajya Sabha, the minister said that like many emerging technologies, there are concerns about safety, trust and harm.

"ChatGPT is a Large Language Model (LLM) launched by US based OpenAI. AI is a kinetic enabler of India's digital economy and innovation ecosystem. However, there are concerns about safety, trust and harm. NITI Aayog has published a series of papers on the subject of Responsible AI for All," said the minister in the reply.

They also mentioned that AI has rose by 2.5 times, and a report has identified language processing, robotics, computer vision and image processing finding widespread applications in education, health, finance, mobility, e-commerce, manufacturing etc. On the issue of regulating AI technology, the government hinted to frame a law globally. The minister said there was a discussion on several subjects including AI in the G7 Digital and Tech Ministers meeting held in April, 2023 in Japan.

In a joint statement, the countries opined said they recognise the need to take stock in the near term of the opportunities and challenges of these technologies and to continue promoting safety and trust as these technologies develop.

They are planning to convene future G7 discussions on generative AI, which could include topics such as governance, how to safeguard intellectual property rights including copyright, promote transparency, address disinformation, including foreign information manipulation, and how to responsibly utilise these technologies.

Parliament approves 28% GST on online gaming, horse racing, casinos

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PARLIAMENT on Friday approved amendments to the goods and services tax (GST) laws, enabling imposition of a 28% GST on the full value of bets placed in casinos, horse racing, and online gaming.

The amendments to the Central and Integrated GST laws were passed in the Lok Sabha without discussion. However, for the 28% levy to take effect, states will also need to make changes to their own GST Acts through legislative measures. By Friday afternoon, the Rajya Sabha returned the Bill to the lower House, clearing the path for its enactment.

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman has set a target date of October 1 for implementation of the new tax, which will be reviewed six months after its introduction. The online gaming sector, which has expressed concerns about the tax's negative impact on investments and job opportunities, will be closely monitored by the government for its effects.

According to the finance ministry, after extensive deliberations spanning three years, the amendments have been carefully crafted to address various aspects of the rapidly growing online gaming sector in India. It said that the amendments don't impact casual online gaming activities that don't involve real money, betting, or wagering. The focus of the amendments lies in regulating and taxing online money gaming. Those who are providing the services from abroad to individuals in India will have to do the GST registration mandatorily.

This step ensures that overseas suppliers contributing to the Indian gaming market are appropriately registered and subjected to the relevant tax obligations.

Additionally, the amendments introduce a special provision to determine the tax liability of overseas suppliers engaged in online money gaming. This provision also facilitates simplified GST registration procedures for such suppliers. Furthermore, the authorities have been granted powers to block websites and platforms of non-compliant suppliers, ensuring compliance with tax regulations.

Not to impact gaming that don't involve real money

Finance ministry said that the amendments don't impact casual online gaming activities that don't involve real money, betting, or wagering. Focus of the amendments lies in regulating and taxing online money gaming

Nykaa Q1 net profit up 8% at ₹5.4 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FSN E-Commerce Ventures, which operates Nykaa, on Friday reported ₹5.4 crore net profit (attributable to shareholders + non-controlling assets), a growth of 8% for the June quarter.

However, net profit attributable to equity shareholders of the parent stood at ₹3.3 crore, a decline of 27% compared to ₹4.5 crore in the year-ago period. Its revenue from operations in the first quarter of this fiscal year stood at ₹1,421.8 crore, a 24% increase compared to ₹1,148.4 crore in the same quarter last year.

Its overall beauty and personal care (BPC) GMV (gross merchandise value) grew at 24%. The company said its ecommerce platform, physical retail, and the consumer brands – all witnessed healthy growth. Physical retail space increased by 43% YoY with 152 stores as of June 30, 2023. Its owned brands GMV also grew close to 40% YoY. During the quarter, its EBITDA margin stood at 5.2% as against 4.0% a year ago, an expansion of 116 bps.

Falguni Nayar, Executive Chairperson, MD, and CEO, said, "Our beauty vertical continues to shape into an ecosystem of its own – with steady and balanced growth across our online platforms, physical footprint as well as our consumer brands. Fashion's consumer brands also experienced steady growth with our own labels now spanning across categories." The company's overall fashion GMV grew at 12% for Q1 FY24, slower than the long-term trajectory.

City Union Bank Q1 net up marginally to ₹227 cr

MUMBAI: City Union Bank reported a standalone net profit rose marginally to ₹₹227 crore for the June quarter of the current fiscal from ₹225 crore due to a drop in other income and rise in non-performing assets. Interest income jumped 15% to ₹1,266 crore, net interest income remained flat at ₹523 crore (₹525 crore). Net interest margin fell to 3.67% from 3.95%. Gross non-performing assets rose to 4.91% of total advances from 4.65%, while net non-performing assets declined to 2.51% from 2.89%. The bank's total business rose 5% to ₹94,060 crore, of which deposits accounted for ₹51,655 crore. Current account savings account increased 3% to ₹15,893 crore. ENS

Patanjali Foods Q1 profit down 64%

NEW DELHI: Edible oils firm Patanjali Foods Ltd on Friday reported a 64% fall in its net profit to ₹87.75 crore in the first quarter of this fiscal year due to a fall in prices of cooking oils. Its net profit stood at ₹241.25 crore in the year-ago period. Total income rose to ₹7,810.50 crore in the April-June quarter of 2023-24 from ₹7,370.07 crore in the corresponding period of the previous year, according to a regulatory filing. The edible oil segment recorded sales of ₹5,890.73 crore. The edible oil industry was impacted by lower prices than the previous quarter due to a sudden fall in prices which left the industry with high price inventory in hand, as well as stock in transit, it said. PTI

NCLAT stays insolvency process of Cafe Coffee Day

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE Chennai Bench of National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) on Friday stayed an order of the admission of a corporate insolvency plea by the NCLT Bengaluru against Cafe Coffee Day (CCD).

This comes as a big relief to the coffee chain company. The order has been put on hold till September. Last month, Coffee Day Global, which manages the CCD chain, was admitted for corporate insolvency. The company was facing bankruptcy after IndusInd Bank filed a petition to the NCLT Bengaluru.

In a BSE filing on Friday, the company said, "The said NCLT order was appealed before National Company Law Appellate Tribunal, Chennai (NCLAT). The NCLAT has issued an order dated 11th August 2023 granting stay against the NCLT order dated 20th July 2023."

Malavika Hegde, CCD's former director and wife of late VG Siddhartha, had approached NCLAT Chennai bench against the NCLT order.

The matter will come for hearing on September 20. "In the meanwhile, till the next date of hearing, operation of the impugned order shall remain stayed," the NCLT order said. Earlier in an exchange filing, CCD said, "The application filed by one of the lenders against the material subsidiary Coffee Day Global Limited before National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), Bengaluru, has been admitted (oral order) under Section 7 of Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 for initiating Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) for ₹94 Crores."

It added, "However, the Material subsidiary is waiting for the written order from the NCLT, Bengaluru Bench. Further, the Material Subsidiary has informed the Company that it will take the required legal action in this regard." Meanwhile, CCD has rescheduled its board meeting to announce financial results of the company from August 11 to August 14.

Shakib to lead B' desh in Asia Cup, World Cup

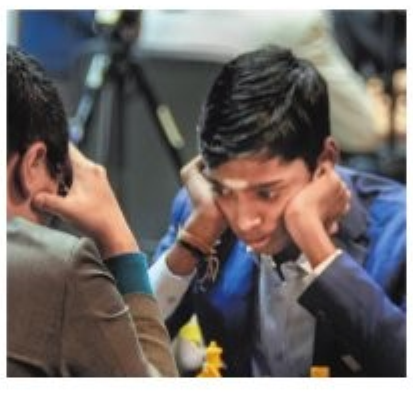
Bangladesh appointed all-rounder Shakib Al Hasan as their ODI captain for both the Asia Cup and the 2023 World Cup. Apart from the two events, Bangladesh will face New Zealand in a white-ball series before travelling to India for the World Cup. "We have appointed Shakib as the captain for the Asia Cup and World Cup," said Nazmul Hassan, the Bangladesh Cricket Board (BCB) president.

Praggu moves fox Nakamura as young brigade marches on

GOMESH S @ Chennai

R PRAGGNANANDHAA eliminated Hikaru Nakamura after securing wins with both white as well as black pieces on a madcap Friday at the FIDE World Cup. Nakamura, second seed and one of the favourites to advance to the medal rounds, had drawn both his games with the Indian to send the match into a tie-break on the third and final day of the fourth round matches in Baku.

A stunning victory and then miles away there was ice cream. Former multiple world champion and World No 1 Magnus Carlsen, who was deep in battle against Germany's Vincent Keymer, came over to shake Praggnanandhaa's hand and talk to him. Apart from congratulating the achievement, there is a story behind the ice cream that involves Carlsen and RB Ramesh. Earlier in the day, Ramesh, who is currently in Sweden doing a training camp for Carlsen's club, had told everyone that he would treat them with icecream if Praggnanandhaa beats Nakamura. "Someone had already conveyed it to Magnus and Magnus was telling Praggu that your coach is buying everyone ice cream," laughs Ramesh.



And of course, Praggnanandhaa was elated as well. "I am very very happy, I can't express it. It is one of my best days for sure," he said in an interview with FIDE. His coach, Ramesh was excited about the win. "Defeating Nakamura, both main games ended in a draw, but today he was in great form, put pressure from the word go. He did not have any trouble, he just got a slightly better position out of the opening and converted it. To beat Hikaru in a rapid match on such a big platform, I am sure it will give a lot of confidence to him," an elated Ramesh told this daily. Praggnanandhaa will next face Ferenc Berkes for a spot in the quarterfinals. The first round of games are scheduled to begin on Saturday. Apart from the teenager, D Gukesh, another of the starlets that's taking the world of chess by fire, also advanced to the next round, beating Andrey Esipenko in tie-breaks. Both Vidit Gujrathi and Arjun Erigaisi also advanced to the Round of 16. In the women's section, D Harika beat Eline Roebers on tie-breaks to advance to the next round.

Ramesh is pleased with the performances of the Indian youngsters. He is happy to see them carry the legacy of Indian chess forward. "It is very important because it is the youngsters who are taking the initiative. If you look at them, everyone is below 20 years old. Even Nihal got very great positions against Ian Nepomniachtchi, but unfortunately, he lost in the tie-break. So I think all these youngsters are doing well and it's very important that the youngsters take their responsibility to take the game forward. I hope similar things will be happening in the women section also. We are still having Harika D, who is already 30-plus years old, and unfortunately, we don't have any teenagers among the girls who are doing similar in the women's section. So I hope that will change soon."

Lots of ice, night-time hydration protocols and no non-matchday training sessions help India stay cool

How hosts coped with the heat

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

ONE Of the hottest starts to August in recent times has seen the Indian team go through an extraordinary amount of ice to keep its players going on match days at the ongoing Asian Champions Trophy. The heat has also kept most of the teams away from training sessions on non-match days. In fact, some members of the Indian team reported losing 2-3 kgs in sweat alone per match (most of them regained it during the rest day) during the league phase of the tournament.

So, it's fair to say that the Indian team has had to get creative to keep its players fresh ahead of the semifinals. To ensure they have been well hydrated, they have implemented specific hydration protocols after the match and before the players go to bed.

"Most of the hydration work is done by our physio," says Alan Tan, scientific advisor for the men's team. "We hydrate them before the match, we load them up with as much fluid as possible and then during the match as well. Post match, we have got recovery drinks for them where we again restart the process of loading them up with fluid. Athletes are also responsible for their own hydration. "After a match and before they go to bed, they possibly can go through as much as a litre to 1.5 litres of fluid. They also have a post-match meal so it's not just fluid alone."

Just to put things in perspective, the 1-1.5 litre mandate wasn't present in Spain where India played late last month. "A lot less in Spain, our matches were in the afternoon and it was nowhere as humid or hot as it is in India. Even the amount of fluid we needed was nowhere as close. Even the ice required to stay cool in Spain was probably about half the amount." This is where the rest day part of the tournament is handy for the teams. Most of them have been happy to use it for video-based review sessions or light swimming pool sessions inside the team hotel (teams have usually tended to have outdoor training sessions during rest days but not at the Asian Champions Trophy). "In the day break, they pretty much gain all of it back," Tan, who has worked with the likes of Tennis Australia before, says. "We are fortunate enough to have a recovery/rest day after two days. They also spend a lot of their time in the hotel so they have got enough time to regain most of the weight back."

Another trick up their sleeve is something called pre-cooling to tackle the excessive heat. The Indian management hasn't used it yet but Tan says they may in the days to come. "We haven't gotten to the stage of pre-cooling where we actually give them very very cold drinks before the match. But it's something we will implement at some stage."

Aided and abetted by sports science, the Indian team are a match away from winning their first gold since they jointly won it with Pakistan in 2018.

India beat Japan 5-0 in the ACT semifinal on Friday | P RAVIKUMAR

India rout Japan, face Malaysia in final

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Chennai

THERE was a lovely flowing move in the beginning of the second quarter that kind of spoke about the stylistic vision Craig Fulton has. After stopping a relatively threatening Japan move from entering the striking circle, India got hold of the ball and recycled possession, exchanged passes in midfield, trying to move the Japan defence multiple ways.

After advancing with the ball, the move turbo-charged through the attacking third before Akashdeep Singh lofted the ball to S Karthi who was within handshaking distance of the goalkeeper. But the pass evaded Karthi's stick and the chance had gone abegging. The Mayor Radhakrishnan Stadium, though, roared in appreciation of a move that has been worked arduously on the training pitch ever since Fulton came on board. The move was in keeping with the general momentum of a 15-minute period when Japan weren't even in the same postcode as India; such was the difference between the two sides in terms of movement, skill and general imagination.

While Japan did well to nullify India's weapons in the first quarter, the hosts slowly started to move through the gears in the second stanza. There was a winding coast-to-coast run from Amit Rohidas. The opener, you sensed, was round the corner. And so it proved when Akashdeep, whose idea of space inside the D is one of the best in this side, was in the right spot to slam home a loose ball after the opponents failed to clear the danger. Harmanpreet Singh, who has been in goal-scoring form from the top of the D, sounded the board from the penalty corner. Later, Mandeep Singh was on hand to deflect a Manpreet Singh shot on the stroke of half-time.

Every move had a purpose; a goal behind it as Japan were left back-tracking for vast moments of the second quarter. This was a marked difference from the group stage encounter had played out. There Japan had men behind the ball and frustrated India. Here, they were running, expending lots of energy to even get possession for a few minutes. That physical exertion kind of started telling on the visitors as they slowly tired. The World No. 4, who will face Malaysia in the final on Saturday, weren't done though. Manpreet picked up the ball, glided past a few Japan legs before playing a defence-splitting to the onrushing Sumit. The defender picked up the ball, evaded a few tackles before flicking it into the top corner. Karthi had the last laugh as India embraced Route One hockey. Harmanpreet's long ball from inside India 23 took the midfield out of the equation before finding Gurjant Singh in the opposite end of the field. He brought it down before putting on a plate for the striker who finished it with aplomb.

Cries of 'Karthi, Karthi, Karthi', reverberated as the capacity crowd were revelling in what they were witnessing. In a little over 12 hours, they may well have the chance to see an Indian hockey team do that rarest of things — pick up gold on Indian soil. Some members of the crowd may have experienced it the last time it happened in India for it happened at the same venue 16 summers ago at the Asia Cup.

FIH ABANDONS TRIAL OF NEW PENALTY CORNER RULE

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

THE International Hockey Federation (FIH) decided to kill trials for the proposed penalty corner rule change a few weeks after coming out with the proposal. While the world body for the sport had its fair share of critics for the proposal, chief, Tayyab Ikram, said there was no pressure to kill the trials and it was an independent decision.

"The FIH has decided to put on hold or even abandon the new penalty corner trial. The format we proposed before, we will not consider for trial. We will deliberate on further options but we are in big favour to keep the penalty corner in the same format," Ikram said during the half-time of the first semifinal of the Asian Champions Trophy. "If we change it, it will be around the same format with more dynamic ways. In any case, we will not compromise on any measures which will lead to dangerous play and challenge the safety of our athletes. That's something we want to ensure."

The trials would have witnessed all members of the attacking team save the pusher stand at least five metres outside the striking circle, with the ball then being passed back inside the D before a possible short on goal. The FIH wanted to change the current penalty corner rule to protect players as the risk of injury is high. "The main thing is we want to keep the penalty corner as compact as possible. It not only enhances goal scoring, it also gives glamour to our sport. We want to keep it that way. But we need to continue working to enhance the safety of our athletes." However, penalty corner is something so unique to hockey that it actually elevates the sport — both from the perspective of the drag-flicker as well as the first rusher, postman as well as goalkeeper — so there's always a tug of war between keeping it as it as while ensuring enough protection is given for the players.

Asha wins silver at CW Youth Games

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

Asha Kiran Barla (L) with Phoebe Gill and Fleur Cooper | SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

INDIAN contingent added three more medals to their tally on the sixth and final day of the Commonwealth Youth Games. With that, India secured 17th place at the event held in Trinidad and Tobago. Australia finished first with 64 medals, including 26 golds, followed by England and Scotland, who finished second and third respectively.

Asha Kiran Barla won a silver medal in the 800m with a timing of 2:04.99s, falling short of her personal best. A promising athlete from Jharkhand won her second medal at the youth level after winning the gold medal at the 2022 Asian U18 Athletic Championship in Kuwait. "I am happy to win. Because we came all the way from India to win the medals for the country and I am going back with one," Barla told this daily from Trinidad and Tobago.

"Even before we came here, I had decided that I want to better my personal best timing, even if I didn't win the medal. I came close to beating my personal best, but I am happy that I won the medal," Barla added.

Coming from remote areas of Jharkhand, she struggled to even get a pair of running shoes, but help from her family, school teacher and coach Aashu Bhatia helped her overcome all obstacles. After the success at the youth games, the 16-year-old aims to represent India at the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics.

Other than Barla, Shoan Ganguly also won the silver medal in the 400m individual medley. The 18-year-old surpassed Aryan Nehra's timing of 4:27:62 from the nationals to bag a silver medal. On the same day, in the girl's shotput, Anupriya threw the iron ball 15.62m in her third attempt to claim the third spot behind South Africa and Australia.

In the women's high jump, Haryana's Pooja secured the bronze medal, while also achieving her new personal best with a 1.75m leap. In Javelin, Arjun finished third to win the bronze medal, after South Africa's Willem Jansen and England's Tom Rutter.

Brij Bhushan faction to challenge stay on polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai/Chandigarh

THE Punjab and Haryana High Court might have stayed the Wrestling Federation of India election slated for Saturday but the faction of sidelined WFI chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh is confident of getting it vacated in the Supreme Court next week. With two representatives from almost 20 units already in New Delhi in the wake of elections, Brij Bhushan held a meeting at a five-star hotel in the evening following the stay.

"We were surprised (by the stay order) but are confident that it would be vacated once we challenge it in the Supreme Court," one of the office-bearers, who attended the meeting told this daily. "It was Supreme Court that said the election process cannot be stopped while vacating the stay order of the Gauhati High Court earlier and now the same has been done by a different court. If I am not wrong, it's contempt of court," added the office-bearer. Earlier, the court of Justice Vinod S Bhardwaj while hearing a petition from the Haryana Wrestling Association (HWA) wherein the petitioner has challenged returning officer's move to allow another faction, Haryana Amateur Wrestling Association, to cast votes in the WFI polls, stayed the election thus postponing the process for the third time.While representatives from most of the units are expected to leave for their respective destinations and return once the stay is vacated, members from a few associations will stay back.

Another group holds meeting

Even as Brij Bhushan was meeting his loyalists, members from another faction also gathered in the national capital to chalk out future strategies. "As all of us were in the city so we decided to meet," said a member who was part of the meeting. It is also learnt that a few members of the faction had a closed-door meeting on Thursday night. It is learnt that the members had discussed the pending hearing in the Punjab and Haryana High Court and its implications on the proposed election.

Centre of Excellence inaugurated

GUWAHATI: Badminton Association of India on Friday inaugurated the National Centre of Excellence that will not only hone players' skill but will develop coaches. While renowned Indonesian coach Mulyo Handoyo will be looking into the development of singles players, former All England champion Russia's Ivan Sozonov and Korea's Park Tae-Sang will be in-charge of the coaching panel. The duo will train and develop a string of Indian coaches to meet the global standards.

In a rare move, IOA selects press attache for Asiad

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE Indian Olympic Association (IOA) has appointed senior sports journalist G Rajaraman as the contingent's press attache for the Asian Games in China. IOA had called for applications for the role in July and selected the veteran scribe as the representative for India.

IOA president PT Usha congratulated Rajaraman on his appointment. "His appointment reinforces our commitment to ensuring a seamless communication experience for the Indian contingent and the media during the Games," she said via IOC press release. "His vast experience will undeniably enhance the representation and visibility of Indian athletes at this prestigious event," she added. The quadrennial event will be held from September 23 to October 8.

Sweden in semifinals

AGENCIES @ Auckland

SWEDEN first knocked off the United States and then bounced Japan to snag a spot in the semifinals of the Women's World Cup.

The Swedes, the World Cup runners-up in 2003 and three-time third-place finishers, eliminated previously unbeaten Japan 2-1 in Friday's quarterfinal. With Japan out of the tournament, this year's World Cup will crown a first-time winner.

The sold-out crowd at Eden Park, where Sweden will play in the semifinals on Tuesday against Spain, danced to songs by Swedish rock band Abba as it was played throughout the stadium after the win. Amanda Ilestedt scored a first-half goal and Filippa Angeldal converted a second-half penalty to give Sweden the mild upset and send the Swedes to the semifinals for the fifth time. "Obviously we were very happy with the win against the U.S., but we knew we had to recharge and think about Japan," midfielder Kosovare Asllani said.

"We knew we were going to play a very skilled and technical team, and we didn't want them to have a lot of time on the ball, because that's when they're the best."

Odisha FC beat Rajasthan United 2-1

KOKRAJHAR: Aphaoba Singh converted a penalty to help a young Odisha FC defeat I-League franchise Rajasthan United 2-1 for their first win of the Durand Cup, on Friday. It's now a three-way battle for the top spot in group F with Odisha, Rajasthan and Indian Army having three points each in the race to the quarterfinals. After a barren first-half, Chandra Mohan Murmu's 48th minute strike gave Odisha lead.

'Enough evidence to put Singh on trial'

NEW DELHI: Delhi police told a metropolitan court there was enough evidence to put outgoing Wrestling Federation of India chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh on trial in a case of alleged sexual harassment of women wrestlers. The city police told Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Harjeet Singh Jaspal that a 'prime facie' case was made out against Singh and co-accused Vinod Tomar.

FUND CALL FOR ROBUST CONSERVATION OUTSIDE UMBRELLA SPECIES

SUDARSAN MAHARANA @ Bhubaneswar

In June, an international study that assessed distribution data of 14,000 species of amphibians and reptiles found that climate change would harm more of these animals inhabiting outside of the protected areas (PAs) than those living inside.

Earlier last year, a Living Planet report had revealed that 'monitored wildlife populations' had witnessed a 69% drop in the four decades between 1978 and 2018. As climate change sets off a rapid pace of species extinction, there is increased focus on bigger financial commitment towards biodiversity conservation. The Biodiversity Finance Plan (BFP), a report prepared by Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MoEFCC) in collaboration with UNDP and National Biodiversity Authority, had projected that India needed about $16.5 billion between 2017 and 2022. Against it, the total resources that could be pooled in stood at $10 bn, leaving a gap of $6.5 bn.

As the country celebrates the 50th year of Project Tiger and its Cheetah Reintroduction Project remains under close watch of the international community, it is also pertinent to analyse the spending on species conservation.

India is home to around 427 mammal, 1,340 bird, 554 reptile, 414 amphibian and thousands of fish and invertebrate species but a major chunk of funds allocated for conservation programmes seems focussed on large umbrella species.

For 2023-24, the budgetary allocation for the Integrated Development of Wildlife Habitats (IDWH) stood at ₹491 crore. A centrally sponsored scheme, IWH funds Project Tiger, Project Elephant and Development of Wildlife Habitats (DWH). Of this, the fund set aside for Project Tiger and Project Elephant, currently merged into one division known as Project Tiger and Elephant (PT&E) Division, is approximately ₹331 crore.

The remaining ₹160 crore is set aside for DWH, one of the sub-schemes of IDWH that funds three different components - conservation of protected areas, conservation of wildlife outside protected areas and species recovery programme. In 2022-23, out of around ₹510 crore earmarked under IDWH, ₹335 crore was allocated for Project Tiger and Project Elephant. Similarly, the ambitious Project Cheetah has been earmarked an estimated ₹91 crore for the first phase (five years) implementation.

As the country puts focus on protection of key species, experts call for more spread of the financial commitments as more and more species are under increasing threat due to rapid rise in temperature. According to IUCN, at least 73 species that includes 9 species of mammals, 18 species of birds, 26 species of reptiles and 20 species of amphibians are designated as Critically Endangered in India.

Abhijith Vijay, Assistant Field Officer, Amphibian Recovery Project of Wildlife Trust of India in Kerala, points out that there has been considerable change to India's conservation approach in the last 10 or 15 years but it still remains a challenge to work for conservation of small species, amphibians in particular, for various factors. "Around 41% of all amphibians assessed are under threat. Despite this, it is very hard to convince agencies to bring them under conservation," he says.

Apart from Central and State funding, external agencies also support conservation. These agencies, however, fund conservation of those species that are critically-endangered, endangered or at least vulnerable in the IUCN list. "However, with the status of many of the amphibian species yet to be evaluated, getting funds for conservation has not been possible," he told this paper.

Wildlife biologist Tanushree Srivastava works for conservation of Markhor, world's largest mountain goat and Hangul - the Kashmir stag - in Jammu and Kashmir. She says funding for conservation of different species, at present, is fine but feels there should also be focus on other smaller and lesser-known species such as Kashmir Musk Deer, Himalayan Goral, barking deer and serow in the region.

In the high-altitudes, where the population of these species is very less, it is extremely important to conserve them as these are the only prey to the large predators. If we conserve these species, the top predators will be conserved on their own," Srivastava said.

Wildlife Trust of India (WTI) Odisha head Rudra Prasanna Mahapatra, said the focus on umbrella species such as tigers and elephants is always pronounced as their conservation helps other species besides safeguarding the forests.

A senior scientist from the Zoological Survey of India said budgetary allocation is not a major constraint. "It should be adequate to ensure more species are covered in the conservation plan," he said. The species list should be revised from time to time by the government, while there should be adequate focus on ex situ conservation where the species could be relocated, he said.

A senior MoEFCC official said funding for DWH is 100% for Union Territories, 90:10 for North East and Himalayan states and 60:40 for other states.

"Proposals from states are received for DWH in the form of Annual Plan of Operations and funds are earmarked as per the budget availability," he said.

The Government of India has more focus on species recovery programmes, estimation and periodic monitoring of the critically endangered species, he added.

WORLD ELEPHANT DAY

ROGUE ELEPHANTS TURN CELEBRITIES

MANOJ VISWANATHAN @Kochi

THEY largely lived an anonymous life, roaming around Kerala's forests, bathing in cool streams. Following intense media coverage of their ordeal, Kerala's wild jumbos – Arikomban of Chinnakkanal in Idukki, PT 7 of Mundur, later renamed Dhoni (named after a village around 15 km from Palakkad), and Peelandi Chandru of Attappadi (also in Palakkad)—shot to fame. Reports of their misery melted hearts. The trials and tribulations faced by the jumbos also triggered debates on ever rising human-elephant conflicts in Kerala.

Arikomban was captured on April 29 after a long legal battle. The rice-loving jumbo used to raid ration shops. It was also alleged that it killed seven people. The forest department mobilised 150 people, including the rapid response team, to track and tranquilise the jumbo. It was darted six times, radio-collared and later released in Periyar Tiger Reserve.

On May 27, Arikomban entered Cumbum in Tamil Nadu. On June 5, it was tranquilised by TN forest department, and shifted to Kalakkad Mundanthurai Tiger Reserve. "Anayirangal in Chinnakanal is a natural wild elephant habitat. It was encroached by farmers over the past 30 years. In 2001, then AK Antony government housed 301 tribals in region following protests. However, most families left following frequent elephant incursions. The area was converted into a human settlement ignoring report by former DFO Prakriti Srivastava," said animal rights activist MN Jayachandran. Latest reports said Arikomban was roaming in Kothayar area in Kalakkad Mundanthurai and was healthy. Meanwhile, PT 7 (Palakkad Tusker) or Dhoni had been a terror in Mundur, believed to have killed a person in Dhoni and injuring another in Mundur. According to residents, it would roam around human habitats at nights. Though PT7 was captured on January 22, 2023, the chief wildlife warden took four months to decide whether to keep it in captivity or release him. The elephant was moved to a Kraal in Dhoni where it was tamed by two mahouts. Elephant lovers moved court demanding its release. The court appointed a panel, which suggested keeping it in captivity.

Sangita Jindal, chairperson of the JSW Foundation, engages in a conversation with CE about their latest showcase, which is an attempt to highlight the works of the handloom community of our country

STITCHED TO PERFECTION

TUNIR BISWAS

SANGITA Jindal, chairperson of the JSW Foundation, has been planning the Woven Narratives collection for a year and the sole motivating factor has been to shed some light on the handloom community. But how ignored is the sector presently?

"India's handloom artistes are known globally for their craftsmanship and intricacy of designs. It would not be accurate to say that the handloom community is ignored, but there are challenges the community needs to overcome and requires greater attention from a policy and demand generation perspective. Some of these challenges are related to productivity, globalisation, insufficient working capital, rapid technology development, etc. I strongly feel there is a need to strike a balance between retaining the cultural significance of the handloom sector and creating a sustainable future in terms of marketing, the introduction of modern technological interventions etc," shares Jindal, who is the president of Art India Magazine and helmed the notable Kala Ghoda Festival from 2000 to 2003.

The showcase is presently being displayed at Hampi, Vijayanagara. Jindal believes this location was chosen to highlight the cultural legacy of the country. "JSW Vijayanagar Works in Karnataka is home to OP Jindal Vocational Training Centre. It is close to Hampi's temple city. We plan to establish a weaving school within the OP Jindal Vocational Training Centre. We have also established Kaladham, an International Arts and Cultural Centre. Hence, JSW Vijayanagar seemed the most appropriate venue to celebrate an exhibition as extraordinary as India's incredible handloom weaving heritage. My vision was that the Woven Narratives exhibition should showcase the rich cultural legacy of our country. And what place would be better than the city of gods and kings?" asks the creator of the Hampi Foundation.

While the handloom community is facing challenges as mentioned before, all is not bad for them. "As mentioned earlier, India's handloom community is jostling with challenges. Hence, the community will have to play to its different strengths in the modern economy. But at the same time, it also has the advantage of being sustainable and its ability to adapt to market conditions. Preserving the rich heritage of the community should be a priority. We owe it to the next generation. We are deeply involved in evolving ways of documenting and archiving these handloom practices, and as the discussion progresses, I am sure there will be an institutional framework that will also develop," concludes a hopeful Jindal, who is an Eisenhower Fellow.

SADHYA STORY

Media professional Shobha Pillai Coutinho has come out with her first book that has all the 26 recipes of dishes that go into a sadhya

ANUSHREE MADHAVAN

THE air of August feels special every year. After months of blistering heat and a pause in celebrations, the festive cheers start erupting this month. With each festival comes a sense of community, and food is the glue that brings people together. As our neighbouring state of Kerala and our Malayali friends in all parts of the world gear up to celebrate Onam in two weeks, even the non-Malayalis are looking forward to the festivities, especially the sumptuous sadhya.

Media professional Shobha Pillai Coutinho noticed this enthusiasm and love for sadhya by people from other communities. While waiting to feast on a sadhya, she is often flooded with requests for recipes. "Whenever I come across people in Mumbai or when I travel, and we talk about South Indian food, they resonate with sadhya. They love it so much that they ask why it is only available for Onam or Vishu, and they ask me for recipes. I thought why not give the recipes my grandmother and mother used to make," begins Pillai Coutinho.

This thought gave birth to Aaharam – Sadhya - A Perfect Culinary Legacy from God's Own Country, a book on sadhya (priced at ₹1,199), under the brand name Backwaters Chechie. The recipe book that was launched in December 2022, has the recipes of all the 26 dishes that go into a sadhya along with health benefits and tips, a picture of a sadhya on a banana leaf explaining what item goes where, the order of serving. In almost nine months, the book has sold several copies. Pillai Coutinho is thrilled with the response and her purpose of bringing out this book seems to be served. "For this Onam, many people who have purchased the book have called saying that this time they are going to try making the sadhya, albeit on a small scale," she says.

Sadhya is a banquet of dishes made daily in a Keralite's home, from olan to avial and crunchy chips. Aaharam brings to the table the flavours from Pillai Coutinho's ammumma's kitchen in Mavelikara. The book, Pillai Coutinho dedicates to her mother who didn't allow her to cook but inspired her to. A tribute to her roots and the women who blessed her with the art of cooking, came to fruition with the support of her Kerala food-loving Mangalurean husband Lancy Coutinho, and her children Joshua and Jadyn.

Though the flavours of the sadhya differ in every district of Kerala, Pillai Coutinho has followed the Alleppey way. "Before I compiled the book, I did try out a lot of sadhyas. From the 22-odd I tried, I felt there is nothing to match my authentic sadhya," she says, adding that her style has a balanced flavour palette and is not bland.

The creative director for the 64-pager is Pillai Coutinho's Radhika Tipnis and the editor is Sugatha Menon. The photos stand out in the book and invite readers to try their hands at a dish or two. "I prepared the dishes over a Saturday and Sunday and we set up the photo shoot at my house. We would send the images to my friend Radhika, who is in Singapore, for suggestions," she shares.

While Aaharam has built quite a fan base in the US, Australia and many other cities, just through word of mouth, Pillai Coutinho is already neck-deep in two projects – a non-vegetarian sadhya book and prepping for Onam. "I hope to release the non-veg sadhya book by December. It is almost ready with around 22 recipes made of fish, chicken and prawns," she adds.

> Whenever I travel and we talk about South Indian food, people resonate with the sadhya. They love it so much that they ask why it is only available for Onam or Vishu, and they ask me for recipes. I thought why not I give them recipes my grandmother and mother used to make

Infusions for unique inclusions

MIXOLOXY
ANIL KUMAR RANAUT

(The writer is mixologist, Deck of Brews)

INFUSED spirits are trending in a big way, and all liquor majors in the industry are jumping onto this bandwagon by introducing their infused products in the market. Naturally, mixologists at stand-alone pubs are also joining the fray, and coming up with their own concoctions in order to stand out and make their own cocktails special and unique, especially as they give a unique flavour to their in-house cocktails, thus giving their special twist to the regular G&Ts, mojitos and margaritas among others.

Infusing is a technique where you put an ingredient with the flavour you want (fruit, spices, herbs, vegetables, and a whole host of others including tree barks like sandalwood and cinnamon) into the liquid, typically a spirit. Once the flavour has seeped in, the infusing agent is removed. The infused spirits are usually prepared in an airtight container like a mason jar, and shaken periodically to bring out the flavours.

Any liquor of choice can be infused, although mixologists tend to prefer light-coloured liquors and spirits, especially gin and vodka, because they absorb the flavour of mild ingredients easily. However, darker spirits can also be infused.

Some of the popular cocktails with infused spirits are Into the Woods and Royal Tea.

ROYAL TEA

Vodka infused with rose petals, orange juice, rose syrup, lime juice and rose petals glass rim.

For rose-infused vodka

Add quarter cup of rose petals to half a bottle of vodka and give it a good shake before letting the mixture sit for three days.

To make Royal Tea

Rose-infused vodka – 60 ml

Orange juice – 30 ml

Lime juice – 15 ml

Add the above ingredients and give it a good shake before pouring into a glass which is rimmed with rose petals. You could top it off with some edible pink glitter to give the drink an extra sparkle.

INTO THE WOODS

Tequila infused with sandalwood, orange juice, lime juice and passion fruit syrup.

For sandalwood-infused tequila

Pour your favourite tequila into a bottle and add a small bark of sandalwood and stir it rigorously for five minutes and store it for two days. Can be stored up to six months in a cool dark place.

To make Into The Woods

Tequila infused with sandalwood – 60 ml

Orange juice – 30 ml

Lime juice 10 ml

Passion fruit syrup – 10 ml

Add the above ingredients into a shaker and once shaken, sieve into a cocktail glass and serve cold.

I'M PART OF KANNADA CINEMA, NOT THE INDUSTRY'S MACHINATIONS: DARSHAN

The Challenging Star recently marked 26 glorious years in Kannada Cinema, and he reflects on his illustrious journey

> In cinema and life, growth is a journey from obscurity to recognition. Love for the work and unwavering passion helps us confront challenges. Challenges are not a solitary endeavour; they are part of a collective effort
>
> – Darshan, actor

A SHARADHAA

IN the expansive world of cinema, where stories and dreams are intricately woven, one name consistently shines brightly in Kannada cinema: Darshan Thoogudeepa Srinivas. Over an impressive 26 years, his journey, which began on August 10, 1997, has seen him rise up from being a modest light technician to the formidable Challenging Star. The career of the D Boss is a captivating tale of unwavering determination, resilience, and limitless passion.

Darshan stands as an example of an actor with the rare ability to capture hearts and inspire unwavering devotion from a legion of dedicated fans. Commemorating his remarkable 26-year journey, fans have come together to celebrate this milestone, especially by organising the re-release of some of his iconic films.

The actor, who is currently working on his 56th film, Kaatera, gives us insights into his illustrious career. When asked about the evolution of his acting style and film choices over the years, Darshan says, "I remain an actor, and credit goes to all those directors who guided my choices, enabling me to craft a distinct identity with each character. As an actor, I am an open book, allowing filmmakers to select the most fitting shades of my abilities to do justice to the role they have envisioned." Darshan is candid about how the audience's evolving expectations have influenced his approach to acting. "Today, the audiences seek not just words but emotions too. Their desire is to witness actors convey sentiments through expressions, especially through their eyes," he remarks.

This evolution is not new in Kannada cinema, and Darshan himself has managed to stay in the game by continuing to hone his skills and captivate the audiences with every attempt. "Like the depth of a river's source, an actor's essence cannot be completely fathomed. I go with the flow. While my celebrities (he calls his fans 'celebrities') enhance every film of mine, whether it is on the big screen, television, or any digital platform, ultimately it's the craft that resonates with the audience. My connection with them is something I'm yet to completely comprehend."

Darshan's journey has been marked by challenges, and he elaborates on how he manages to not just explore his talent but carve a unique space in the glittering sky of Indian cinema. "In cinema and life, growth is a journey from obscurity to recognition. Love for the work and unwavering passion helps us confront challenges. Challenges are not a solitary endeavour; they are part of a collective effort."

When asked about turning points or pivotal moments in his career, Darshan says, "Every day is a learning curve for me. I don't dwell on the past but look ahead."

Despite bearing witness to the changing dynamics of the film industry over his 26-year journey, Darshan maintains his rather distinct viewpoint. "I've been part of Kannada cinema, however, I'm never a part of the film industry's changing dynamics. Perhaps I don't quite fit in there; I've chosen a different path."

Reflecting on the fourth anniversary of Kurukshetra, in which he portrayed the role of Duryodhana. Given his penchant for mythological and historical films, Darshan emphasises the necessity for skilled filmmakers to undertake such subjects.

Darshan is one of the few actors who prefer staying true to regional cinema instead of trying to ride the trend of pan-Indian films. "My focus remains here; I've never felt the urge to venture into pan-Indian projects. I believe regional films should reach a pan-Indian audience rather than my presence expanding into other languages."

Shifting the focus to his upcoming film, Kaatera, directed by Tharun Kishore Sudhir and produced by Rockline Productions, Darshan believes he will have more to talk as the release date approaches. Beyond Kaatera, Darshan briefly talks about his future ventures, and his principle to concentrate on one film at a time. "My next collaboration will be with Tarak director, Prakash Jayaram. I plan to kick start shooting for it after completing Kaatera."

Raghu Dixit

'The makers of Baang unearthed the dormant actor within me'

CE FEATURES

POPULAR musician Raghu Dixit is gearing up to explore his acting chops, with Baang, which has been planned to be released on August 18. The musician-turned-actor, owes his acting debut to the composer of Baang, Ritvik Muralidhar and director Sree Ganesh Parashuram.

"These two have been together since the inception of this project, and they envisioned me in the role, and were determined to bring me on board," says Raghu Dixit, who admits that he never anticipated the turn of events. "Surprisingly, I thoroughly enjoyed the experience. They unearthed this dormant actor within me. Of course, I had my apprehensions initially, but I embraced the process. Still, there's that nagging concern: What will be the people's reactions? Do I really need this?"

Discussing his role, Raghu Dixit elaborates, "I portray Leona's(Shanvi Srivatsav) father, a character intricately tied to the underworld. People call my gangster persona as 'Daddy', and I have shades of a modern-day Robin Hood." He goes on to explain his involvement in various action-packed scenes, "Gunfights, hand-to-hand combat, sword fights – I'm part of it all. The diversity of the action was truly captivating. For specific scenes, I underwent intensive training in fight choreography designed by Chethan. It was tough, when all of it were captured amidst rain. However, I found immense enjoyment and a desire for the experience to last longer."

Explaining more about the process of acting, Raghu Dixit shares, "The true essence lies in stepping into the shoes of someone entirely different from yourself, delving into their psyche. This resonates with my earlier training in Bharatanatyam dance. However, embodying a character's persona on a deeper level was an enjoyable challenge. I even found myself relishing the quirks, like wearing a leather jacket and smoking a cigar, despite being a non-smoker."

Now that he has ventured into acting, Raghu Dixit reveals that he is yet to sign his next, "No concrete offers have come my way as of now. I believe that this state will change after Baang releases. It's only then that we can assess the situation. I'm open to both possibilities – if this leads to bigger ventures, I'd be delighted, but if not, I won't have any regrets."

A GLORIOUS FIRST HALF TAPERS OFF INTO OBLIVION

SUDHIR SRINIVASAN

JAILER
Director: Nelson
Cast: Rajinikanth, Shivarajkumar, Vinayakan, Yogi Babu, Vasanth Ravi

RATING 3/5

EVEN if director Nelson hadn't flaunted the Breaking Bad tee in that teaser video of Jailer's single, we all know by now, on evidence of his films, that the series has had a serious impact on him. Cocaine smuggling in Kolamavu Kokila, twin assassins in Doctor, Walter White masks in Beast… and now, Jailer gives us more evidence of its influence on him. In this film, people get dissolved in acid, a ceiling comes crashing down, a policeman pretends to be drunk and lures away two enemies before finishing them off… and perhaps most importantly, a cop father deals with the loss of his cop son.

We also know by now that Nelson's film universe milks tragedy for comedy—and that, and his visual signatures, make him such a unique filmmaker. In Jailer, heads get lopped off, family members disappear, women are perpetually unsafe… and like its men, the universe of Jailer feels cold. Nelson isn't interested in your tears (not unless they are of laughter)—and so, he shows little interest in capturing emotional consequences of events like the disappearance of Muthuvel's son (Vasanth Ravi). This is Nelson's world, after all, and he has proven ways of delivering unique entertainment. He thrives in unexpected, cool violence; he specialises in deadpan humour. And often, he combines both to powerful effect. When Muthuvel drags a sack to Yogi Babu's car, we know it's the aftermath of a murder. But that doesn't stop the scene from being funny.

These are such great moments in a wildly entertaining first half. Every time Rajinikanth agrees to work with a filmmaker, a question that pops up immediately is, 'Will the filmmaker, in making the Rajini brand work, compromise on his previous strengths?' Jailer's first half suggests no dilution in the Nelson brand of filmmaking. In his fascinating world, when Muthuvel smiles, it's an expression of pain. When characters squeal in pain, it's often for laughs (like when a character is hung from a fan). You know it's the Nelson world when a husband calmly looks at his wife, who's shocked about a dead body falling on her, and simply advises, "Just push it." Rajinikanth, at one point, refers to himself as a dinosaur—and somehow, Nelson ensures that this lands as a mass moment. It's a first-half in which Yogi Babu's quips seem like the perfect foil for Rajini's serious demeanour. The film, in these portions, establishes enough motivation for 'Tiger' Muthuvel Pandian to go berserk; it establishes a menacing, nutty villain and actor Vinayakan's performance (those unforgettable eyes!) is wonderfully physical. And above all, perhaps the most important—and likeable—decision Nelson seems to have taken in this film concerns Rajinikanth's fight sequences. This film almost wholly does away with hand-to-hand combat. Even when it uses it, Nelson ensures it delivers maximum impact (like in that memorable interval scene). Finally, we are realising that Rajinikanth has enough charisma to ensure that he doesn't need to do all the killing. It's enough if, like in that pre-interval scene, he sits down and asserts control, while someone else takes care of the shooting.

So, yes, I do think the world of everything that happens in this film before it breaks for an interval, but then, as the click-bait text goes on social media, 'what happened next shocked me'. The film, for no rhyme or reason, goes into freefall, in directions that don't feel organic at all. There's a flashback in which we see a 'younger' Rajinikanth—and the Rajini admirer in me felt compelled to enjoy it (make the most of everything you get from him, right?). This scene also shows the policeman, Muthuvel, happily lopping off a prisoner's ear as punishment, and declaring that he won't follow 'rules' when dealing with those who don't follow them. Such blatant romanticisation of police violence has always made me uncomfortable—and this time too, it was no different. This film, interestingly, also talks of how cops are generally corrupt—and it's perhaps for this reason that Muthuvel seems to have closer alliances with reformed gangsters than he does with those in his department. So, no, it's definitely not a film that's out to whitewash the police department—but still, the preeminent star of our times, wearing a police uniform, unleashing brutality to Anirudh's thumping music, doesn't exactly scream responsibility.

Soon, the film, bizarrely, turns into a sort of heist; suddenly, it's all a far cry from the pre-interval joys. A bunch of flabby portions fill up big chunks in the second half, and Rajinikanth seems strangely absent for a while. To prop things up perhaps, top actors from other languages play cameos, all making brief, forgettable appearances… Even more forgettable are the women in this film. Ramya Krishnan plays Rajinikanth's wife in the film, and she's largely relegated to looking meek and frightened. None of this is Rajinikanth's fault though. The man seems to belong as organically in Nelson's universe as Sivakarthikeyan did in Doctor. This is an actor who clearly doesn't have a problem submitting, on evidence of this film; if there are problems in Jailer—and the second half is a sackful of it—it has to be attributed to the writing.

As Jailer ended, I was left with many thoughts. I thought about whether that brief flashback was enough to justify the title. I thought about the film seeming so full of promise at the half-way mark and bizarrely losing direction from then on. I thought about another unforgettable Tamil film from 27 years ago that spoke about an incorruptible father dealing with his son, without compromising on 'commercial entertainment'. Above all, I thought about how many more films Rajinikanth has in him and whether we are making the most of his willingness to submit to filmmakers.

The Future of Elderly Care in India: Spotlight on Athulya's Pioneering Role

As India's population continues to age, the need for specialized senior care has become increasingly critical. With the elderly population expected to reach an astounding 340 million by 2050, there is an urgent call for innovative solutions to address the unique needs and challenges faced by senior citizens. Amidst this demographic shift, organizations like Athulya Senior Care are stepping up to fill the void in compassionate care for seniors, redefining the landscape of elderly care in the country.

India's traditional family structure, where multiple generations often lived under one roof, provided a natural support system for seniors. However, rapid urbanization and changing lifestyles have led to an erosion of the joint family system, leaving many elderly individuals isolated and lacking adequate care. This shift has highlighted the necessity for specialized senior care facilities that can cater to the diverse needs of this vulnerable population.

Athulya Senior Care has emerged as a pioneer in this domain, offering a model that places the well-being and happiness of residents at its core. With a commitment to delivering world-class facilities and personalized care, Athulya has become a beacon of hope for seniors seeking a nurturing and dignified environment in their golden years.

One of the key strengths of Athulya Senior Care lies in its holistic approach to senior living. By blending luxury infrastructure with compassionate care, the organization creates an atmosphere that is reminiscent of home while offering the support and medical attention that seniors may require. From ensuring the highest standards of hygiene to providing nutritious meals, every aspect of Athulya's operations is tailored to promote the physical, emotional, and mental well-being of residents.

An essential aspect that sets Athulya Senior Care apart is its commitment to personalized care plans. Every resident's needs are carefully assessed, and a bespoke care plan is devised to cater to their specific requirements. Whether it is medical supervision, therapeutic support, or simply companionship, Athulya's dedicated team of healthcare professionals ensures that residents receive the care and attention they deserve.

Beyond the confines of their residential care, Athulya extends its compassionate care to seniors who prefer to remain in the comfort of their homes. Through its home care services, the organization provides round-the-clock nursing care, timely doctor visits, and assistance with daily activities. This approach empowers seniors to age gracefully in familiar surroundings, surrounded by the love and warmth of their families.

In a society that often overlooks the needs of seniors, Athulya Senior Care also serves as an advocate for elderly rights and well-being. Through awareness campaigns and community engagement, the organization seeks to break the stigma around aging and foster a more inclusive and compassionate society for all.

As India's senior care industry continues to evolve, organizations like Athulya Senior Care exemplify the transformative power of specialized care for seniors. By prioritizing residents' dignity, independence, and happiness, Athulya fills the void in compassionate senior care, ensuring that the elderly population of India can embrace their golden years with grace and dignity.
